WHO IS

The Ebonizer

The Ebonizer, with over 20 years of experience in the entertainment and music industry, was recently nominated in four categories at the Las Vegas Black Music Awards. Her vocal talents were first noticed when she was just 4 years old, captivating the church parishioners with her extraordinary singing abilities. By age 8, she joined Walt Whitman and the Soul Children of Chicago, quickly distinguishing herself as an outstanding vocalist.

Her singing career soon soared to new heights, making her a sought-after artist in Chicago. The Ebonizer has shared the stage with many renowned artists, including Yolanda Adams, Mary Mary, Celine Dion, Nick Carter, and others. In 2001, Ebony Archer was featured in R. Kelly's video "The World's Greatest." In 2012, she was the runner-up in the national anthem competition for "Black Girls Run," garnering over 40,000 votes. Her melodic voice is often compared to the likes of Whitney Houston and Toni Braxton.

Today, she is an "Ebonized Boss," serving as the CEO of her entertainment company and music label, Music Evolved Records and media company, UCrave.

With her extensive musical experience, coached vocal training, and audience-focused stage presence, she has become a gifted singer. Her fierceness and fearlessness on stage have earned her the recognition of "The Ebonizer."
