Pledge your gift to the CMAA

This is commitment weekend for the 2026 Catholic Ministries Annual Appeal (CMAA). The appeal is a powerful way to put our faith into action.

This year's theme is Beyond all Expectations: Faith that Elevates! When we care for those in need, we answer this call. Our parish joins with other parishes to serve the vulnerable, grow children in faith, and strengthen vocations. We cannot foster these ministries alone. This is a diocese-wide effort. We receive 70% of any amount raised over our goal to reinvest in our parish.

Please prayerfully consider your gift and help our parish reach $54,200. Complete and return a pledge envelope in church today.

Thank you for your support!

The parish office will be closed for President's Day.
Daily mass will be at 8:30am.

Lenten Disciplines of Fasting & Abstinence

Catholics in good health ages 18 to 59 are required to fast and to abstain from meat on Ash Wednesday and Good Friday.

Fasting consists of eating only one meal, with the possibility of two smaller snacks that do not add up to a single full meal.

Catholics age 14 and older are to abstain from meat on all Fridays in Lent.

We welcome Alexandra Elyanna Gonzales who was recently baptized into the family of God and into the faith community of Holy Ghost.

Please pray for her and her family.

Memorare

Remember, O most gracious Virgin Mary, that never was it known that anyone who fled to thy protection, implored thy help, or sought thine intercession was left unaided.

Inspired by this confidence, I fly unto thee, O Virgin of virgins, my mother; to thee do I come, before thee I stand, sinful and sorrowful. O Mother of the Word Incarnate, despise not my petitions, but in thy mercy hear and answer me. Amen.

CATHOLIC THEODICY: Understanding God's Justice in the Face of Evil

DEFINITION AND PURPOSE OF THEODICY

Theodicy is the branch of theology and philosophy that seeks to reconcile the existence of evil and suffering with the belief in a just and omnipotent God.

The term comes from the Greek words "theos" (God) and "dike" (justice), meaning "the justice of God."

In Catholic theology, theodicy addresses the profound question:

**How can an all-powerful, all-knowing, and all-loving God allow evil and suffering to exist in the world?*****

Catholic theodicy is not merely an intellectual exercise; it is deeply pastoral, aiming to provide comfort and understanding to those who suffer.

It strives to maintain the coherence of the Christian belief system while offering explanations that resonate with both faith and reason.

KEY ELEMENTS OF CATHOLIC THEODICY

1. THE NATURE OF GOD AND CREATION

- Catholic theology affirms that God is all-powerful, all-knowing, and all-good. God created the world out of love and desires the ultimate good of all His creation.

- The world, as created by God, is fundamentally good. This is emphasized in the Genesis account, where God declares His creation "very good" (Genesis 1:31).

2. THE GIFT OF FREE WILL

- Free Will:

A cornerstone of Catholic theodicy is the doctrine of free will. God created human beings with the ability to choose freely between good and evil.

This freedom is necessary for genuine love and moral responsibility.

- The Problem of Free Will:

The misuse of free will by humans and angels (as seen in the fall of Satan) leads to moral evil—sin and suffering caused by human choices.

3. THE NATURE OF EVIL

- Moral Evil:

Resulting from human free will, moral evil includes acts such as murder, theft, and lying, which harm others and disrupt the moral order.

- Natural Evil:

This refers to suffering not directly caused by human actions, such as natural disasters, diseases, and death. Catholic theology often addresses natural evil by examining the broader context of a fallen world.

4. THE FALL AND ORIGINAL SIN

- The doctrine of Original Sin teaches that humanity's first parents, Adam and Eve, chose to disobey God, resulting in a fallen state of human nature (Genesis 3).

This original act of disobedience introduced disorder into creation, affecting both human nature and the world.

- Consequences of the Fall:

Catholic theology posits that the original sin brought about not only moral evil but also natural evil as a form of disorder in creation.

5. THE ROLE OF SUFFERING

- Redemptive Suffering:

In Catholic thought, suffering can have a redemptive purpose. Jesus Christ's suffering and death on the cross are seen as the ultimate example of redemptive suffering.

Through His Passion, Christ transforms human suffering into a means of participating in God's salvific plan.

- Participation in Christ's Suffering:

Catholics believe that by uniting their suffering with Christ's, they participate in His redemptive work.

This concept is vividly illustrated in Colossians 1:24, where St. Paul states, "Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and in my flesh I am filling up what is lacking in the afflictions of Christ."

6. DIVINE PROVIDENCE AND GREATER GOOD

- Providence:

Catholic theology teaches that God, in His providence, can bring good out of evil. God's ultimate plan is to bring about a greater good, even if His ways are beyond human understanding (Romans 8:28).

- Example:

The story of Joseph in the Old Testament (Genesis 37-50) is a classic example. Joseph's brothers sold him into slavery, an act of moral evil, yet God used this event to save many people from famine, turning a tragic situation into a source of salvation.

7. THE ESCHATOLOGICAL PERSPECTIVE

- Eschatology:

Catholic theodicy also emphasizes the ultimate fulfillment of God's justice and mercy at the end of time.

The full understanding of God's plan, including the existence of evil and suffering, will be revealed in the eschaton (the final event in the divine plan; the end of the world).

- The Beatific Vision:

The final resolution of the problem of evil is found in the promise of eternal life with God, where all tears will be wiped away, and there will be no more death or suffering (Revelation 21:4).

EXAMPLES OF CATHOLIC THEODICY

1. THE SUFFERING OF JOB

- Biblical Narrative:

The Book of Job addresses the issue of undeserved suffering. Job, a righteous man, suffers immense losses and physical afflictions despite his faithfulness to God.

His friends argue that his suffering must be a punishment for sin, but Job maintains his innocence.

- Theological Interpretation:

The narrative does not provide a direct answer to why Job suffers, but it emphasizes trust in God's wisdom and sovereignty.

God's response to Job highlights the limitations of human understanding and invites a humble submission to His divine will.

- Catholic Understanding:

Job's story is often cited in Catholic theology to illustrate that suffering is not always a direct result of personal sin and that the reasons for suffering can be mysterious, ultimately inviting deeper faith and trust in God.

2. THE CRUCIFIXION OF JESUS

- Theological Significance:

The crucifixion of Jesus is central to Catholic theology and its understanding of theodicy. Jesus, who is sinless, suffers and dies on the cross, taking upon Himself the sins of humanity.

- Redemptive Suffering:

The cross is the ultimate symbol of redemptive suffering. Through His Passion and death, Jesus transforms suffering from a consequence of sin into a means of salvation. The crucifixion is not just a tragic event but the fulfillment of God's redemptive plan.

- Example:

In the Gospel of John, Jesus speaks of His impending death as a moment of glorification (John 12:23-24). His suffering leads to the resurrection and the promise of eternal life, demonstrating how God can bring the greatest good (salvation) out of the greatest evil (the unjust killing of the Son of God).

3. NATURAL DISASTERS AND HUMAN RESPONSE

- Case Study:

Natural disasters such as earthquakes, hurricanes, or pandemics are often cited as examples of natural evil that challenge the understanding of a loving and omnipotent God.

- Catholic Response:

Catholic theology often interprets these events in light of a fallen world but also emphasizes the human response of solidarity, charity, and compassion. Through these responses, people participate in God's work of healing and restoration.

- Example:

In the wake of a natural disaster, Catholic charities and organizations often mobilize to provide aid and relief. This response reflects the belief that while evil and suffering exist, they provide opportunities for Christians to demonstrate God's love and mercy.

4. THE LIFE AND SUFFERING OF SAINTS

- Saints as Examples:

The lives of the saints are often held up as examples of how to understand and respond to suffering. Many saints, such as St. Maximilian Kolbe, St. Teresa of Calcutta, and St. John Paul II, experienced intense suffering but saw it as a means of drawing closer to Christ.

- Example of St. Maximilian Kolbe:

St. Maximilian Kolbe, a Polish Franciscan friar, was imprisoned in Auschwitz during World War II. When a fellow prisoner was condemned to death, Kolbe volunteered to take his place, offering his life out of love and self-sacrifice.

This act of ultimate love in the face of evil reflects the Catholic belief in redemptive suffering and the transformative power of self-giving love.

CONCLUSION

Catholic theodicy provides a framework for understanding the existence of evil and suffering in a world governed by a just and loving God.

It emphasizes the importance of free will, the redemptive value of suffering, and the ultimate hope found in God's providence and eschatological promises.

Through examples from Scripture, tradition, and the lives of the saints, Catholic theology offers a nuanced and compassionate approach to the problem of evil, one that seeks to reconcile the mysteries of divine justice with the lived experience of faith.
