The TEC Man Down Unit is a powerful discreet device for at-risk employees, allowing them to have confidence to carry out their duties and not fear for their safety.

Main features of the TEC Man Down Unit

Features include fall alert, SOS button, accurate location, auto answer and two-way call facility. Ideal for security personnel, lone workers, engineers, delivery drivers, night staff and anybody that works alone and requires extra protection.

The added benefit of communication via a two-way radio will give them confidence and a direct feed to assistance if required.

If enabled the emergency protocol allows the ARC to call the device without a ringtone or announcement letting the ARC covertly listen to the situation. Our technology gives a 360° view of all your lone workers activity, location and safety updates with 24/7 coverage from your designated in-house team or Alarm Receiving Centre

All of these options are available as stand alone products or can be bundled to suit the needs of your organisation.
