Camp Words Unspoken Behavior Policy

Camp Words Unspoken is dedicated to providing every camper with a positive summer camp experience. CWU has set standards and expectations for behavior to which all camp participants, campers and staff must abide by.

If a camper breaks a rule, staff will address the situation directly and in a timely manner by clarifying expectations around rules and suggesting appropriate behaviors. With consistent misbehavior, staff will contact Camp Director(s), who in turn will contact parents to discuss the issue and create a plan to resolve it.

Camp Words Unspoken reserves the right to dismiss any camper whose behavior is deemed inappropriate. It is also important to note that there are some “zero-tolerance” behaviors that may result in immediate dismissal. In the event that a camper is dismissed there is no refund.

Parents, please review the following with your child:

Camp Words Unspoken expects that campers will:

- Follow the rules that staff set out for each activity or project.
- Be honest and respectful, in actions and words, for all other campers and staff
- Respect other people’s space and privacy.
- Do their part to keep camp clean and orderly.
- Stay with an assigned group and notify staff when they need to leave the group.
- Be a positive and active participant in all camp activities.
- Behave in a manner that does not disrupt or interfere with others enjoyment of camp.
- Have Fun!

Camp Words Unspoken has a zero-tolerance policy of the following:

- Bullying, fighting, hazing or violent behavior.
- Hateful speech or language of any kind, as well as harassment.
- Theft or vandalism of any kind.
- Possession of controlled substance or other contraband.
