Dear friends,

Today is World Marriage Day. We pause to give thanks for the blessing that married couples are. There really are no perfect marriages and no perfect way to be married. Over the years I have come to see many different ways that people do "marriage." The most important gift they give is their willing to get up everyday and work at building their relationship.

WORLD MARRIAGE DAY

We give thanks for the gift of faithfulness they have given us by the witness of their lives. With them and for them we pray...Lord, help them to remember when they first met and the strong love that grew between them. Help them love in practical ways so that nothing can divide them. May their words be kind and their thoughts gracious. May they remain humble enough to ask for forgiveness and wise enough to freely give. Leaning into the journey of life Fr. Gene Schroeder

Penance Service

with distribution of Ashes 11:00 am and 7:00 pm
This year, we will be following a much older Catholic tradition of having ashes sprinkled on our heads.

In the first reading, Isaiah urges us in the name of the Lord to feed the hungry, shelter the homeless, and clothe the naked. If we do so, he assures us, the Lord will hear and answer our cries for help in time of need.

CHILDREN (age 4 thru 2nd grade) ARE INVITED TO JOIN US FOR THE LITURGY OF THE WORD AT THE 10:30 AM MASS EACH SUNDAY

ON THE LOVE FOR THE POOR

We are reading from the Apostolic Exhortation Dilexi Te of Pope Leo to all Christians on the Love of the Poor

In the nineteenth century, also in France, Saint Marcellin Champagnat founded the Institute of the Marist Brothers of the Schools. He was sensitive to the spiritual and educational needs of his time, especially to religious ignorance and the situation of neglect experienced in a particular way by the young. He dedicated himself wholeheartedly to the mission of educating and evangelizing children and young people, especially those most in need, during a period when access to education continued to be the privilege of a few.

In the same spirit, Saint John Bosco began the great work of the Salesians in Italy based on the three principles of the "preventive method" – reason, religion, and loving kindness. Blessed Antonio Rosmini founded the Institute of Charity, in which "intellectual charity" was placed alongside "material charity," with "spiritual-pastoral charity" at the top, as an indispensable dimension of any charitable action aimed at the good and integral development of the person.

Many female congregations were protagonists of this pedagogical revolution. Founded in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, the Ursulines, the Sisters of the Company of Mary Our Lady, the Maestre Pie and many others, stepped into the spaces where the state was absent. They created schools in small villages, suburbs and working-class neighborhoods. In particular, the education of girls became a priority.

The religious sisters taught literacy, evangelized, took care of practical matters of daily life, elevated their spirits through the cultivation of the arts, and, above all, formed consciences. Their pedagogy was simple: closeness, patience and gentleness. They taught by the example of their lives before teaching with words. In times of widespread illiteracy and systemic exclusion, these consecrated women were beacons of hope. Their mission was to form hearts, teach people to think and promote dignity. By combining a life of piety and dedication to others, they fought abandonment with the tenderness of those who educate in the name of Christ.

For the Christian faith, the education of the poor is not a favor but a duty. Children have a right to knowledge as a fundamental requirement for the recognition of human dignity. Teaching them affirms their value, giving them the tools to transform their reality. Christian tradition considers knowledge a gift from God and a community responsibility. Christian education does not only form professionals, but also people open to goodness, beauty and truth. Catholic schools, therefore, when they are faithful to their name, are places of inclusion, integral formation and human development. By combining faith and culture, they sow the seeds of the future, honor the image of God and build a better society.

ACCOMPANYING MIGRANTS

The experience of migration accompanies the history of the People of God. Abraham sets out without knowing where he is going; Moses leads the pilgrim people through the desert; Mary and Joseph flee with the child Jesus to Egypt. Christ himself, who "came to what was his own, and his own people did not accept him" (Jn 1:11), lived among us as a stranger. For this reason, the Church has always recognized in migrants a living presence of the Lord who, on the day of judgment, will say to those on his right: "I was a stranger and you welcomed me" (Mt 25:35).
