

2025 TAX PREP CHECKLIST

What To Bring For Your Tax Appointment

When you are preparing for the upcoming tax season, this list will help you know what documents to keep an eye out for throughout the year and set aside. If your tax appointment is right around the corner, this list is also a great resource to help you track down the right documents.

With all of the changes every year (and, of course, that's especially true THIS year), filing your taxes on your own is not for the faint of heart.

That's even with nice-looking softwares on the market which purports to make it easy for you.

But that's what we're here for.

Below is a list of what you will need during the tax preparation process. Not all of them will apply to you — probably MOST will not. Nonetheless, it's a useful tax preparation checklist. Feel free to even print it out and keep a copy in your filing cabinet.

Before you get overwhelmed: yes, this is a long list — but it's the unfortunate reality of our tax code that it's not even comprehensive! But these items will cover 95% of our clients. Really, this is for ensuring that we're able to help you keep every dollar you can keep under our tax code.
