

Partnering in the Work of our Lord's Great Commission

Dear Pastor Broyhill and Praying Friends,

...do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry.

2 Timothy 4:5

Greetings! As we continue in missions and evangelism... in travels oft... preaching and teaching... training, exhorting, and evangelizing... raising awareness, prayers, funds, and personnel... supplying, assisting, mentoring, comforting, and challenging... We thank the Lord for His work and His working.

We are excited to share another method that we use within our ministry — CHURCH MISSIONS INITIATIVE. Church Missions Initiative (CMI) is a module that we developed particularly for local church leadership.

This module came about some years ago after receiving a request from a pastor who desired to revisit the missions philosophy and practices of his church. Key church leadership attended the sessions, which coincided with missions emphasis services for the church.

Step-by-step, we worked together through multiple facets of missions, including:

- ◆ The pastor-missionary relationship
- ◆ Financial options in missionary support
- ◆ The calling and sending of missionaries
- ◆ Overall goals of missions and missionary work

Church Missions Initiative is structured to encourage the pastor and church in multiple applications. Here are just a few:

- ◆ Helping a new pastor establish a Biblical pattern for missions in a new or existing church
- ◆ Assisting a seasoned pastor with refreshing a missions vision in an older church
- ◆ Reviving missions in a church that is in or has passed through a difficult time in its history

In any setting, Church Missions Initiative has been used to bring unity of heart, unity of purpose, and unity of ministry to work together in reaching our lost world for Christ. We have been blessed to share CMI with pastors in various settings: hourly, one- to three-day meetings, one-on-one and in groups, in person and remotely.

Your continued prayers are greatly appreciated for Church Missions Initiative and all aspects of our ministry... we are thankful for you; we keep you in prayer – and, as always, we are...

Praying for More...
