

ABOUT THE COVER

In this week's readings, God's purposes move through betrayal, fear, and the howling wind, and cannot be stopped by any of them.

Joseph is stripped of his robe and sold into Egypt by his own brothers, yet the psalm looks back on that same story and sees the hand of God working through every injustice toward a redemption no one could have predicted.

Peter steps out of the boat toward Jesus, feels the wind, and begins to sink, but the hand that catches him is immediate and sure.

Paul drives it home: the Word is not far off, not locked in heaven or the deep, but near us, on our lips and in our hearts, and how beautiful are the feet of those who carry it forward.
