From Our Pastor

Fr. Michael S. Murray, OSFS

An Exhortation by St. Jane de Chantal on the Beginning of a New Year

We are about to bring another year to an end, a year like so many years which have come before it.

Time passes by. The years come and go, and some day we, likewise, will pass and come to an end as well. We must make a strong and absolute resolution that, if Our Lord should gift us with yet another full year, we will make better use of it than those years that have come — and gone — before. Let us walk with a new step in God's divine service to our neighbor and to our greater perfection. Let us take great courage to labor in earnest.

Please take this to heart. What is the point of being gifted with a new year if not to recommit ourselves to the task at hand? Otherwise, we should not be astonished to find ourselves in the same place at the conclusion of this year with little or nothing to show for it. I desire that this not happen to you; rather, consider how you can make good use of every day that God is pleased to give you. Let us embrace the responsibilities and challenges of life in the best way that we can; let us employ the time that God gives us with great care. While we hope in God's divine goodness, may we also remember to aspire to actually do what is good.

So then, let us live this New Year in the name of our Lord. Let us redouble our efforts at serving God and one another faithfully, especially in small and simple ways. God only expects what we can do, but what we can do God clearly expects. Therefore, let us be diligent in giving our best to God, leaving the rest in the hands of God's infinite generosity.

(Based upon St. Jane de Chantal's Exhortation for the last Saturday of 1629, On the Shortness of Life. Found in "Conferences" of St. Jane de Chantal. Newman Bookshop: Westminster, Maryland. 1947. Pages 106-107)

With Gratitude

As we bid adieu to one year and prepare to say bonjour to another year, it behooves us to give thanks to God for the gift of time. Francis de Sales recommends that to make the best use of this gift, we should resolve to avoid spending too much time dwelling on the past or forecasting the future. Francis wrote:

"Keep your eyes fixed steadfastly on the blissful day of eternity towards which the course of time bears us on. But in the meantime — in the here and now — in each passing moment there lies enclosed as in a tiny kernel the seeds of all eternity, and in our simple little works of devotion there lies hidden the prize of everlasting glory."

Thank you for your willingness to invest some of your treasure, talent — and time — in our efforts at St. John Neumann Parish to give glory to God by serving and loving one another: in the here and the now of everyday life.

Solemnidad de María, Santa Madre de Dios

Las invitamos a unirse a nosotros el 1 de enero para la Solemnidad de María, Santa Madre de Dios, día de precepto.

Las misas serán a las 9 a. m.,
12:10 p. m. y 2 p. m. en español.

¡Feliz Año Nuevo!

Del pastor

Al despedirnos de un año y prepararnos para dar la bienvenida a otro, es nuestro deber dar gracias a Dios por el don del tiempo. Francisco de Sales recomienda que, para aprovechar al máximo este don, decidamos evitar pasar demasiado tiempo pensando en el pasado o pronosticando el futuro. Francisco escribió:

«Mantén tus ojos fijos con firmeza en el dichoso día de la eternidad hacia el que nos lleva el curso del tiempo. Pero mientras tanto, aquí y ahora, en cada momento que pasa se encuentra encerrada, como en un pequeño grano, la semilla de toda la eternidad, y en nuestras pequeñas y sencillas obras de devoción se esconde el premio de la gloria eterna».

Gracias por su disposición a invertir parte de su tesoro, su talento y su tiempo en nuestros esfuerzos en la parroquia de San Juan Neumann para dar gloria a Dios sirviéndonos y amándonos unos a otros: en el aquí y ahora de la vida cotidiana.

Nuclear Weapons and Catholic Teaching (Part 12)

By signing the 2017 Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons, the Holy See agreed to a legal framework for banning nuclear weapons worldwide.

That fall, Pope Francis formally rejected the strategy of deterrence as a point of Catholic moral teaching: "The escalation of the arms race continues unabated and the price of modernizing and developing weaponry, not only nuclear weapons, represents a considerable expense for nations. As a result, the real priorities facing our human family, such as the fight against poverty, the promotion of peace, the undertaking of educational, ecological and healthcare projects, and the development of human rights, are relegated to second place . . .

"Nor can we fail to be genuinely concerned by the catastrophic humanitarian and environmental effects of any employment of nuclear devices. If we also take into account the risk of an accidental detonation as a result of error of any kind, the threat of their use, as well as their very possession, is to be firmly condemned. . . . Weapons of mass destruction, particularly nuclear weapons, create nothing but a false sense of security. They cannot constitute the basis for peaceful coexistence between members of the human family, which must rather be inspired by an ethics of solidarity" (emphasis added).

With this statement, Pope Francis completed the Church's turn away from the limited acceptance of deterrence under Pope John Paul II that had been called into serious question under Pope Benedict XVI.

Next month: More from Pope Francis. For more information about Pax Christi, contact Bob More at more.paxchristi@gmail.com.
