According to the Student Watch™ Attitudes & Behaviors toward Course Materials 2022 Report, during the 2021-22 academic year, 52% of students say they use digital course materials more now than they did before the pandemic. Only 9% used less. This was 33% in 2021 and 15% in 2019.

1 in 4 students skip obtaining at least one course material. Students who skip obtaining a course material spend $24 less on average than those who obtain all their materials. 1 in 10 students have pirated materials.

39% of students used inclusive access in 2022. This was 33% in 2021 and 15% in 2019.

The campus store remained the number one place students obtained their materials, with a market share of 55%. Amazon is in second place with a 19% market share. Publishers' websites have a 12% market share, and materials obtained from peers or students have an 11% market share. Other sources have a 2% market share.

Source: Student Watch™ Attitudes & Behaviors toward Course Materials 2022 Report