Gospel Reflection

This passage invites us to examine the tension between human desires and divine purpose. Like Peter, we may resist suffering, fear the unknown, or try to impose our own expectations on God's plan. Yet, Jesus calls us to look beyond our immediate fears and embrace a path that may be difficult but leads to ultimate life and hope

Consider the areas of your life where you cling too tightly to security, pride, or control. How might you “deny yourself” to follow God more closely?

Reflect on moments where hope seemed distant. Trusting God allows challenges to become occasions of growth and deeper faith.

Observe the “rocks” in your life—obstacles, fears, doubts—as potential tools for strengthening faith and providing foundation for action inspired by love.

This gospel challenges us to live with courageous hope, to follow Christ beyond our comfort zones, and to recognize that true fulfillment comes from surrendering to God's plan Amen.
