Fabrication

Our many years of experience as door installers and fabricators have led us to this culmination of style and tradition. The Rustic Carriage Door is unsurpassed in quality of design and construction.

Rustic Carriage Doors are built with the best quality stain grade hardwoods available. The surface material is milled to shed water, and attached with exterior waterproof glue as well as screws to solid hardwood cores.

Optional factory spray finish is available with several stain or paint color options.

Our Process

It is our goal to create the door that will best meet the desire of each customer. Quality minded craftsmen and detail oriented designers, are able to join together the style of your choice with the material that will be best suited for your specific project. To ensure that the process is smooth and accurate, we produce shop drawings for the customer to approve. After the shop drawing has been approved, the order is placed into production.

Amish Craftsmanship

Our millwork facility is nestled in the heart of Pennsylvania Amish Country. We maintain a strong work ethic and the desire to supply each customer with high quality doors.

Overhead Doors

Nothing can replace the attractive look of a wood garage door. We offer custom millwork, therefore the size and design of the doors are almost unlimited. We can supply heavy duty hardware with an option for electric operators.

We provide doors that are architecturally and historically correct. The end result are doors that all will admire for years to come.

Warranty and Care

Rustic Carriage Doors warranties to the immediate purchaser for a period of 10 years from the date of manufacture that our doors will be free from defects in materials or workmanship as follows:

1. Warping of the door in excess of 5/16 inch.
2. Splits in door panels in excess of 1/8 inch.
3. Rotting of any part of the door.
4. Separation of stiles and rails in excess of 1/8.
  - Hairline cracks may appear and are not considered a defect.

When finishing the door:

Special care must be taken to ensure an even application is made to the surface of the door panels. The door should be finished within 30 days and shall be kept dry and in a dry climate prior to being installed.

Upkeep and maintenance:

As with any wood product that is exposed to the elements, it is important to keep the wood clean and free from debris. The finish of the door should be routinely checked to ensure that there are no exposed bare wood surfaces. Regular upkeep may include re-finishing the entire door panel as required by normal exposure to the elements.
