Annual General Meeting

Some contributions can't be measured in years, but 26 is still remarkable. At our AGM, where we had the honour of recognizing George Vansevenandt on his retirement from the North Parkland Power Co-op Board of Directors.

George dedicated 26 years of service to NPP, and before that, he served on the Board of Bon Accord-Gibbons REA, right up until its amalgamation into what became North Parkland Power Co-op today.

Chairman Charles Newell presented George with a special gift from the Board and staff in recognition of his leadership, commitment, and everything he has given to this cooperative over the decades.

George, thank you. This co-op is also stronger because of you.

A look back at this year's AGM. From familiar faces to great conversations, moments like these remind us why being member-owned matters.

Thank you to all the Members who joined us for our Annual General Meeting in April. Your participation, feedback, and support help shape the future of North Parkland Power Co-op and the communities we serve.
