EVANS HEAD

Water is a way of life in this laidback town. The calm waters of the estuary that divides the town are ideal for kayaking, canoeing and stand-up paddle boarding.

Both experienced and inexperienced surfers will love Evans Head Beach with 6 km of surfing beaches and pretty coastal scenery. It's protected from southeast swells that generate big waves elsewhere. In the right conditions the breakwall creates a good wave.

Airforce Beach is a long stretch popular with 4WD enthusiasts, beach anglers and dog owners. Evans Head is surrounded by national parks – Broadwater to the north and Bandjalung to the south. There are walking trails, freshwater lagoons, sprawling wetlands and thousands of birds, koalas and other wildlife.

There are spectacular coastal views from Razorback Lookout and Goanna Headland, which has a deep spiritual connection with the local Aboriginal people. You can spot humpback and other whales during their annual migration, and pods of dolphins frolic in the waves along the sandy beaches.

Evans Head is a 2hr 30min drive south of Brisbane and eight hours drive north of Sydney. Flights are also available to Ballina Byron Gateway Airport, only a 40min drive away. There are places to stay to suit all budgets, from national park campgrounds to beachside holiday parks, motels and a hotel.

LOCATION

The Sandbar and Restaurant is located in the Evans Head – Casino Surf Life Saving Club. Our venue is right at the beautiful Main Beach and with panoramic Pacific Ocean views. The stunning views south to the headlands and hugged from the north by dunes and native bush, make this a unique place with the perfect backdrop.

The venue offers an enclosed dining area with bar and space for a dance floor. We are wheelchair accessible and have plenty of free parking as well as being in walking distance to many of the main accommodation options within Evans Head.

The Sandbar has a classy relaxed vibe with a capacity of Seated 120 / Cocktail 175

Our Head Chef and his team, source our fruit & vegetables locally through Eltham Valley Fresh, our seafood through Northern Rivers Seafood in Ballina & our meats are from the butchers Metcalf Quality Meats on the main street of Evans Head. We also only use gluten free flours so our kitchen is as gluten free as possible.

Our skilled bartenders will ensure everyone has their drink of choice.
