

The Grapevine

One of the greatest joys in the Christian life is witnessing God answer prayer. When we experience His tangible response, it strengthens our faith. Many new believers begin praying with the correct conviction that "with God all things are possible" (Matthew 19:26). Yet, when bold requests go unanswered—or are answered differently than expected—they can become discouraged and pull back from prayer. This disappointment can be overcome. As we grow in spiritual maturity, we often gain clarity on why certain prayers were not granted in the way we desired. Still, one of the best ways to sustain a vibrant prayer life is to regularly pray the kinds of prayers Scripture shows us God always answers with an enthusiastic "Yes."

These prayers may not appear dramatic at first glance, but do not underestimate their power. Over time, many believers have found they bring profound transformation one's walk with God. One example is an apostolic prayer from Paul that God delights to answer:

I keep asking that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the glorious Father, may give you the Spirit of wisdom and revelation, so that you may know him better. I pray that the eyes of your heart may be enlightened in order that you may know the hope to which he has called you, the riches of his glorious inheritance in his holy people, and his incomparably great power for us who believe. —Ephesians 1:17–19a (NIV)

This prayer beautifully acknowledges two vital truths:

We need divine help to truly know God. No amount of intellectual effort or Bible study technique can replace the illumination of the Holy Spirit. Praying this before opening Scripture places us in a posture of humility and dependence.

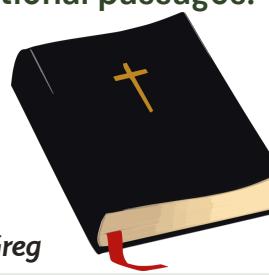

God eagerly grants deeper knowledge of Himself when we ask. The promise is clear: He will give the Spirit of wisdom and revelation so that we may know Him better.

If you've never done so, I encourage you to make this prayer a regular practice—especially just before reading the Bible. Speak it over yourself (replacing "you" with "me") and, if possible, over others as well.

The experience of many believers is that consistently praying this prayer leads to far more "aha!" moments—those sudden insights where a passage leaps off the page and speaks directly to one's life.

If you'd like to explore more prayers that align perfectly with God's will—and therefore always receive a "Yes"—consider these additional passages:

Praying these biblical prayers builds an unshakable foundation for your prayer life. You'll grow in prayer confidence, and—most importantly—come to know the heart of God more deeply. Faithfully, Pastor Greg
