State Policy Snapshot

New Jersey’s solid waste and recycling policy framework includes statewide product bans on single-use plastics and polystyrene, minimum post-consumer recycled content requirements for multiple packaging types, county-based mandatory recycling requirements, disposal bans for a range of hazardous and regulated materials, and regulatory programs governing universal waste, medical waste, and electronic waste.

Product Bans

Overview: New Jersey bans single-use plastic carryout bags, single-use paper carryout bags at grocery stores, polystyrene foam food containers, and polystyrene loose-fill packaging statewide.

Product Stewardship

Overview: Beyond batteries, electronics, and tires, New Jersey addresses product stewardship for many materials through alternative regulatory approaches rather than traditional producer- or consumer-funded programs. Beverage containers have minimum recycled content requirements. In addition, paint, fluorescent lights, mercury thermostats and switches, and gas cylinders are managed under universal waste and hazardous waste regulations, while pharmaceuticals and sharps fall under regulated medical waste requirements. Pesticide containers are addressed through guidance.

Producer-Funded: Program in which manufacturers or producers are responsible for financing and/or operating collection, recycling, or disposal of the product or material. Consumer / Eco Fee: Program funded in whole or in part through fees paid by consumers at the point of sale or disposal, such as advance recycling fees, eco-fees, or deposits. Both: Program that includes a combination of producer funding and consumer or eco-fees. Other: Any other active program or regulatory approach not captured in the categories above (e.g., take-back requirements, labeling, disclosure, recyclability standards). None: No statewide producer responsibility, consumer fee, or comparable program in place for the product or material.
