On March 16, the information requested by Bishop Deshotel was received from Msgr. Luis Escalanti and on March 19 it was e-mailed to Marian Bourque, Bishop Deshotel's Assistant. B. Beatification and Canonization Committee: Charles Hardy met with Fr. Gary Schexnaylder to ask him to meet with Msgr. Curtis Mallet, full-time vicar general for the Diocese of Lafayette, La regarding the Diocese of Lafayette's Centennial August Newsletter which was inserted in many of the parish weekly bulletins of the churches of the Diocese of Lafayette. The newsletter included Charlene Richard and Verbis LaFleur as possible saints from the Diocese of Lafayette but did not include anything about Nonco. In the meeting, Msgr. Mallet told Fr. Gary that it was an error of omission by the Diocese of Lafayette that Nonco was not included.

On the banks of Bayou Teche behind the St. John Francis Regis Catholic Church in Arnaudville and 2. behind the Church's office. D. Website Committee: Mary Belleau will inquire if the Nonco.org Website could show the number of hits made to the Website.

E. Ad Hoc Committees

a. Event – See "To Do" List for Annual Meeting on next page

b. Campaign – Mary Belleau suggested that the "Donate" Page of the Website be revised and shown to Beverly Brooks-Thompson, a fundraising consultant, for her advice to the board as to how to appeal for donations to members and corporations and to apply for grants.

7. Old Business – The restoration of Nonco's House is now almost complete. We were very fortunate to have so many friends and relatives contribute to this project. Thanks to Kirk and Gary Hebert, owners of the property, we were able to build Nonco a brand new "old" house of recycled lumber. Our contractor, Mervin Savoy, his three grandsons, Michael and Galen Briscoe and Sam Fontenot, did a remarkable job at restoring Nonco's House. Contributors to the project included John Kidder, who donated an old house in Cecilia. Charles Taylor, Luiz Figueiredo, and Allen LeBlanc removed all the cypress siding on the donated house to replace the unusable siding on the Nonco House. George Marks (curator of NuNu's with permission of the owners) allowed us to get from the old Singleton Lumber Yard all the two by sixes, two by fours, and additional siding to supplement and complete the project. Roland Rivette contributed all the one by twelve by sixteen cypress boards to frame all the window and doors and to re-deck the porch. Jerry Richard donated the corrugated tin for the roof of the porch. Jerry also is in the process of coordinating a deal with Tractor Supply to get materials to build a fence and gate around the house. The Nonco Foundation is very grateful for this coordinated effort. We know Nonco is smiling as he sees his old house as it used to be.

8. New Business – Suzanne Stelly and Charles Taylor will attend the Arnaudville Chamber of Commerce's First Annual Thanksgiving Festival organizational meeting on Tuesday, October 9, 2018, 6:00 PM at the Little Flower Auditorium to discuss "The Volunteer Fest" and "The Harvest Ball" to be held on Saturday, November 24, 2018.
