The Professor and the Jar

A professor of philosophy stood before his class with some items in front of him. When the class began, wordlessly he picked up a large empty mayonnaise jar and proceeded to fill it with rocks about two inches in diameter. He then asked the students if the jar was full.

They agreed that it was full.

So the professor then picked up a box of pebbles and poured them into the jar. He shook the jar lightly and watched as the pebbles rolled into the open areas between the rocks. The professor then asked the students again if the jar was full.

They chuckled and agreed that it was indeed full this time.

The professor picked up a box of sand and poured it into the jar. The sand filled the remaining open areas of the jar. "Now," said the professor, "I want you to recognize that this jar signifies your life. The rocks are the truly important things, such as family, health and relationships. If all else was lost and only the rocks remained, your life would still be meaningful. The pebbles are the other things that matter in your life, such as work or school. The sand signifies the remaining "small stuff" and material possessions.

If you put sand into the jar first, there is no room for the rocks or the pebbles. The same can be applied to your lives. If you spend all your time and energy on the small stuff, you will never have room for the things that are truly important.

Pay attention to the things in life that are critical to your happiness and well-being. Take time to get medical checkups, play with your children, go for a run, write your grandmother a letter. There will always be time to go to work, clean the house, or fix the disposal. Take care of the rocks first – things that really matter. Set your priorities. The rest is just pebbles and sand.

Finding time in the day for fitness or participating in other athletic endeavors should be considered a "rock" for us all. Physiologically, working out releases endorphins in the body. These endorphins are natural pain-relievers produced by the body. This is what gives us the natural high experienced after a workout. This natural high has the potential to positively influence our daily interactions by making us feel better about ourselves. Make fitness a rock solid priority in your life and reap the benefits.

Come and Get It!

MIGUEL DULICK

What a lovely feast when we hear again the familiar beatitudes. Blessed! Blessed! Blessed! Are you poor in spirit? Come on down—you get the kingdom of heaven! Are you mourning? Comfort on call! Meek? This land is your land! Hungering for righteousness? Your marching days are done! Are you merciful? You ain't seen nothin' yet! What about clean of heart? That's hard to live up to, but the reward is that you get to see God! Peacemaker? "Why, you're one of my own children!" says God. And, finally…insulted and persecuted? Crowned in heaven; that is your reward!

How many saints are there? According to the Book of Revelation, "A great multitude, which no one could count, from every nation, race, people, and tongue" (Revelation 7:9). Pope John Paul II took that as a mandate, multiplying saints beyond the capacity of the calendar to accommodate them; he wanted every community to have a patron saint. Pope Benedict kept up the "multitude-ing," and, in 2015, Pope Francis declared Archbishop Oscar Romero—long called "San Romero de las Americas" by the faithful of El Salvador since his assassination in 1980—a martyr in odium fidei, that is, he had been murdered out of hatred of his faith. This led to his beatification in the same year and his canonization by Pope Francis in 2018. I visited his tomb in 1985, and there were already hundreds of notes stuck on the wall, all grateful for el milagro—the miracle. Saints of God, pray for us. ●

Dear Padre,

Growing up, I was never taught how to pray, just how to recite prayers. After a lot of reading about prayer, I find myself conflicted about to whom I pray. At church, we pray to Jesus. But, on the other hand, God is the Almighty One who gave me life. And to make it even harder, there are Mary and the saints. So, to whom do I pray?

PEOPLEIMAGES / SHUTTERSTOCK

A person can end up reciting long formulas of prayers or decades of the rosary without being mentally present. Distraction in prayer is a major problem. Real prayer is conversation with God. God appreciates having our full attention.

If you really look at the prayers of the Mass, you'll see they are all directed to God the Father, with the exception of a prayer that is said to Jesus before Communion. We pray through Christ in the Holy Spirit to God the Father in all the other prayers. However, the Persons of the Blessed Trinity are not jealous of one another. To honor the Father brings immense pleasure to the Son, and vice-versa.

And praying to Mary and the saints is better understood as asking them to pray with us. Jesus said that when two are in agreement about anything they pray for, God will grant that prayer. (See Matthew 18:19.) We exercise the option of praying with others when we invoke the saints.

The great thing is that any genuine prayer is a tremendous help to one's spiritual life.

A WORD FROM POPE LEO XIV

The mystery of the communion of saints... reminds us of the final destiny of humanity: a great celebration in which we rejoice together... admiring the multifaceted beauty of faces, all different and all resembling the face of Christ.... How this contrasts with the tragedies that the human family is suffering because of injustice and war.

31 Octubre – 1 Noviembre 2026: Día de Los Santos

Tradiciones de Nuestra Fe

¿Qué es el Día de Todos los Santos?

El Día de Todos los Santos, que se celebra el 1 de noviembre en la Iglesia Católica Romana, es un día de precepto, y muchos otros cristianos también lo celebran, incluyendo a los católicos orientales el domingo después de Pentecostés. En este día, la Iglesia honra a todos los santos, tanto a los canonizados como a los que han alcanzado el cielo (véase Hebreos 12:22-24). Estos santos son personas que vivieron vidas de fe y dedicación extraordinarias a Dios, sirviendo de ejemplo para los cristianos. Ya sea que la Iglesia los reconozca oficialmente o no, estos santos desempeñaron un papel significativo en la difusión del cristianismo y en guiar a otros hacia la santidad (Mateo 28:18-20).

El Origen del Día de Todos los Santos

La celebración del Día de Todos los Santos se remonta a los primeros siglos de la Iglesia cristiana. Inicialmente, los cristianos honraban a los mártires en los aniversarios de su muerte, ya que esos días marcaban el comienzo de su vida eterna con Jesús en el cielo. Sin embargo, a medida que aumentaba el número de mártires durante persecuciones como la del emperador Diocleciano y su sucesor —que duró del 303 al 311 d. C.—, se hizo difícil asignar un día específico a cada testigo que murió por la fe.

Las Misas en Español
12:00 p.m. los Domingos
7:00 p.m. los Viernes
Rosario & Catecismo
Todos los Miércoles a las 6:30 p.m.

Por lo tanto, a partir del siglo IV, la Iglesia estableció un día común para honrar a todos los mártires, incluyendo dos ciudades en la actual Turquía: Edesa el 13 de mayo y Antioquía el primer domingo después de Pentecostés.

En el año 609 o 610, el Papa Bonifacio IV consagró el Panteón de Roma a la Santísima Virgen María y a todos los mártires, eligiendo conmemorar a los santos el 13 de mayo. Posteriormente, el Papa Gregorio III (731-741) dedicó una capilla en la Basílica de San Pedro a todos los santos y trasladó la celebración al 1 de noviembre. Finalmente, el Papa Gregorio IV (827-844) estableció el 1 de noviembre como la fecha oficial de la Fiesta de Todos los Santos en toda la Iglesia Occidental, reconociendo y respetando así también la misma celebración de los católicos orientales a principios de año.

¡Por favor, tengan en cuenta nuestras parroquias en su testamento o planificación patrimonial! ¡Las Iglesias bajo nuestro cuidado dependen de su apoyo!
