This weekend, we remember all the loved ones in our life who have died and those whose funeral services took place in our churches. So many people tell me stories about the loved ones they have lost and the journey of pain that they endure along the way. Most of all, those who still live on earth want to just tell their stories and wish to find value in the stories told. To listen, to be present and to tell others that we are with them and God is with them sometimes is the most important thing we can do for those who suffer.

There are so many stories to tell... it is just a matter of who chooses to make time to listen to the stories. God bless. – Fr. Pete

WISDOM 3:1, 3

The Great Halloween Mistress

FR. JOSEPH JUKNIALIS

One Halloween, the lady who lived in the big white house down the block gave out bottles of Coke for trick-or-treat. Not 6-ouncers, not 10-ouncers, but 12-ouncers! I remember going up to her door like we did at every other house, stomping up the steps, ringing the bell and waiting, then yelling, “Trick or treat!” for a piece of penny candy as the door opened. Instead, our eyes widened with disbelief as we gasped, “Wow! A bottle of Coke! Gee, thanks a lot.” I remember her smile and the look of delight in her eyes at making some scraggly neighborhood kids so excited. Before long, word got out among that night’s goblins and saints. Kids I had never seen before, kids from neighboring communities, all came streaming in, and she gave each of them a bottle of Coke. To me, it was unbelievable—such generosity. That year, nobody dared “trick” her house. We made sure. Among us kids, such generosity did not go unrewarded.

On All Souls’ Day, we remember those who have died, and we remember them with an awareness of the need we all have for God’s mercy. Sometimes, I think that God is like that woman who lived in the big white house down the block. God is the Great Halloween Mistress. We come to her, armed with our tricks to get what we want, and she disarms us with her unbelievable generosity—the greatest “treater” of all time. God gives us everything undeserved—the most generous treats ever, all year round. ●

Reflect

What experiences of God’s generous blessings have I known? Have I taken any for granted?

Dear Padre,

Do we pray for the dead on All Souls' Day for what we can do for them, or for what they can do for us?

On All Souls' Day, the Church celebrates the one body in Christ that unites its members on earth, in purgatory, and in heaven. For more than a thousand years, we've commemorated this transcendent bond on the second day of November, whether at Mass, in a cemetery, or on a home altar to the faithful departed. This bond of companionship between the living and deceased is so vital to our spiritual well-being that All Souls' Day is celebrated even when November 2 falls on a Sunday.

Because Catholics are in communion with one another through an active relationship that transcends death, our prayers, Masses, sacrifices, and works of charity can be offered up on behalf of the deceased. (See 2 Maccabees 12:38–46.) Souls that get to heaven, in turn, offer their prayers on behalf of the living. Thus, our assistance to the deceased, and their intercession for us, is mutually beneficial! “A perennial link of charity exists between the faithful who have already reached their heavenly home, those who are expiating their sins in purgatory, and those who are still pilgrims on earth. Between them there is, too, an abundant exchange of all good things” (Indulgentiarum Doctrina, 5; Catechism of the Catholic Church, 1475, 954-955, 962). May perpetual light shine upon the souls of the faithful departed. ●

A WORD FROM POPE LEO XIV

In a world wounded by violence and conflict.... I am convinced that if we are...free from ideological and political conditioning, we can be effective in saying “no” to war and “yes” to peace, “no” to the arms race and “yes” to disarmament, “no” to an economy that impoverishes peoples and the Earth and “yes” to integral development.

ALL SOULS' DAY

A CATHOLIC DAY OF PRAYER AND REMEMBRANCE FOR THE FAITHFUL DEPARTED

All Souls' Day, observed on November 2, is a significant day in the Catholic Church dedicated to remembering and praying for all the faithful departed, particularly those souls in purgatory. It is closely linked to the belief in the afterlife and the Church's doctrine on purgatory, emphasizing the mercy of God and the necessity of prayers for those undergoing purification before entering heaven.

The Doctrine of Purgatory

Purgatory is a central concept behind All Souls' Day. The Catholic Church teaches that purgatory is a temporary state of purification for those who have died in a state of grace but still need to be purified of venial sins or the temporal punishment due to sin. While their eternal destiny is heaven, these souls undergo a purification process before they are fully united with God.

The Catechism of the Catholic Church explains that "all who die in God's grace and friendship, but still imperfectly purified, are indeed assured of their eternal salvation; but after death they undergo purification, so as to achieve the holiness necessary to enter the joy of heaven" (CCC 1030). This teaching draws from biblical passages such as 2 Maccabees 12:46, which speaks of offering prayers for the dead, and 1 Corinthians 3:15, which suggests a purification "as through fire" after death.

History and Origins of All Souls' Day

The tradition of praying for the dead dates back to the earliest days of Christianity. In the early Church, prayers and Masses were offered for the deceased, reflecting the belief that the living could assist the dead in their journey to heaven. This practice developed into a specific feast day for all souls in purgatory, formally instituted in the 10th century by Abbot Odilo of Cluny. He established November 2 as the day for the commemoration of all the faithful departed in monasteries under his jurisdiction, and the practice quickly spread throughout the Church.

This feast complements All Saints' Day, which is celebrated on November 1 and honors those already in heaven. Together, the two days reflect the Catholic belief in the communion of saints—those in heaven (the Church Triumphant), those on earth (the Church Militant), and those in purgatory (the Church Suffering)—and the unity of the whole Church across time and space.

Catholic Beliefs and Practices on All Souls' Day

All Souls' Day is not a holy day of obligation, but it remains a solemn occasion in the liturgical calendar. Catholics are encouraged to attend Mass, offer prayers, and perform acts of charity for the souls in purgatory. The Church's tradition includes offering special prayers such as the "Eternal Rest" prayer, and indulgences are also available on this day for those who visit a cemetery and pray for the dead. The indulgence, granted under the usual conditions (sacramental confession, Eucharistic communion, and prayer for the pope's intentions), helps reduce the temporal punishment due for sins for souls in purgatory.

The focus of the day is the offering of Masses and prayers, which the Church teaches can assist the souls in their purification process. As Pope Benedict XVI explained, "The love of God purifies the soul, and when we pray for our deceased loved ones, we are asking God's love to hasten the purification process so that they may enter into the fullness of heaven."

All Souls' Day Around the World

The way All Souls' Day is observed varies across cultures and regions. In many countries, particularly in Latin America and parts of Europe, families visit cemeteries to clean and decorate the graves of their loved ones, offering flowers, candles, and prayers. In Mexico, All Souls' Day is part of the broader celebration of Día de los Muertos (Day of the Dead), which begins on October 31 and continues through November 2. The customs include building altars (known as ofrendas) to honor deceased family members, incorporating Catholic prayers and remembrances with festive elements like food, sugar skulls, and marigolds.

In other countries, such as Italy, Poland, and the Philippines, families often spend the day in prayer and remembrance at cemeteries, lighting candles and bringing flowers to their loved ones' graves. In these cultures, All Souls' Day is a public demonstration of the Catholic belief in the communion of saints and the responsibility of the living to aid the dead through prayers and Masses.

The Role of the Mass on All Souls' Day

The celebration of the Eucharist is central to All Souls' Day. During the Mass, special prayers and readings focus on God's mercy, the hope of resurrection, and the Christian obligation to remember the dead. Catholics believe that offering the Mass for the dead is one of the most powerful ways to assist souls in purgatory.

The Church also encourages acts of charity, penance, and personal sacrifices as a way to offer spiritual aid to those who have passed away. By performing these acts, Catholics participate in the work of mercy, providing spiritual support to the souls who can no longer help themselves.

Conclusion

All Souls' Day is a poignant reminder of the Church's belief in the afterlife and the importance of praying for the dead. It brings together key aspects of Catholic faith: the hope in eternal life, the call to intercede for one another, and the mercy of God in purgatory. By praying for the faithful departed, Catholics fulfill their duty to aid souls on their journey to heaven, reflecting the deep connection between the living and the dead within the communion of saints.

A Prayer for the Month of the Holy Souls

Cameron Bellm

JESUITS

In these days when we look back
Upon generations of the mercy of God,
Brilliantly lit in those who came before us,
I like to think, too,
Of the mercy that will stretch beyond us.
We have laid so many to rest this year
That our grief is ever present with us,
But so, likewise, are our loved ones—
The paths they walked, the prayers they prayed for us.
May we realize, too, that someday
We also will live on earth only in memory,
Carried in the hearts of those who loved us.
In remembering our death, may we move through each day
With tenderness, with gentleness,
With love strong enough to stretch that thin veil
Between heaven and earth into transparency.
May we light the candles that will brighten the lives
Of those who will come after us.
And may we always recognize this truth:
That the goodness of God
Is matched only by its might,
Ever transcending both life and death.
Amen.

2 Noviembre 2025: El Día de los Muertos

Hace un par de días, escuchaba un TikTok Real sobre el duelo. El video decía que estaba bien llorar; simplemente no debemos vivir en él. Debemos atravesar el valle. Un mensaje muy poderoso. Aunque algunos días siento que arrastro los pies por el valle, sé que lo superaré. Aunque ande por valle de sombra de muerte, no temeré mal alguno, porque tú estás conmigo; tu vara y tu cayado me infunden aliento. – Salmo 23:4

Este fin de semana, recordamos a todos los seres queridos que han fallecido y a aquellos cuyos funerales se celebraron en nuestras iglesias. Mucha gente me cuenta historias sobre los seres queridos que han perdido y el dolor que han soportado. Sobre todo, quienes aún viven en la tierra simplemente quieren contar sus historias y desean encontrar valor en ellas. Escuchar, estar presente y decirles a los demás que estamos con ellos y que Dios está con ellos a veces es lo más importante que podemos hacer por quienes sufren. Sabemos que, al otro lado de la vida, para quienes creen, no habrá más sufrimiento, ni dolor, ni lágrimas. Quienes permanecen en la tierra pasan por un proceso de duelo, que a menudo es continuo.

¡Peregrinemos Juntos!

Queridos hermanos y hermanas en la fe, con gran alegría les extendemos una cordial invitación a participar en nuestra Peregrinación por el Año Jubilar 2025, donde Podemos ganar una indulgencia plenaria, será un encuentro de fe, esperanza y renovación espiritual.

Saldremos del Estacionamiento de Bishop McNamara (Kankakee)
y Peregrinaremos hacia la Iglesia de San José (Bradley)

Actividades:

- Rosario en el Camino
- Misa Bilingüe en la Iglesia de San José (Bradley)
