

SAN MAURO LA BRUCA, ITALY 1969

On the night of July 25, 1969, some thieves secretly entered the church of San Mauro la Bruca to steal its most precious objects. After forcing open the tabernacle, they also stole the ciborium containing consecrated Hosts. After having just left the church, the thieves tossed the Hosts onto a small pathway. The following morning, a child noticed a small pile of Hosts at the street corner and he delivered them at once to the pastor.

Only in 1994, after 25 years of thorough analyses and the Hosts were still intact, Bishop Biagio D'Agostino declared it a miracle.

