

A Peaceful Transition of Years (12/30/23)

On New Year's Eve, we may see what look like bombs bursting in air, but it's actually a celebration focusing on positive thoughts for the year ahead. The holiday's theme song, "Auld Lang Syne," is about good times fondly remembered, an important sentiment, but the fireworks and champagne corks are popping for the future, the start of a new year that we are facing together. We do it peacefully and cooperatively, with a willingness to do what is expected of us to help make the world a better place. Here's to a happy 2024!

The Bil Charlap Trio - Cool (Somewhere)

Oscar Peterson Trio - Something's Coming (West Side Story)

Vince Guaraldi Trio - Cast Your Fate to the Wind (Jazz Impressions of Black Orpheus)

Peggy Lee - Cheek to Cheek (Jump for Joy)

Frank Sinatra - Too Marvelous for Words (Songs for Swingin' Lovers!)

James Taylor - Auld Lang Syne (At Christmas)

Zoot Sims - Legs (I'm Lucky)

Dan Fogelberg - Same Old Lang Syne (Greatest Hits)

Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young - Déjà Vu (Déjà Vu)

Dick Haymes - Where or When (Rain or Shine)

Stephen Sondheim - Anyone Can Whistle (Sondheim Sings, Vol. 1, 1962-72)

Independence Jazz Reunion – Alexander's Ragtime Band

John Pizzarelli - April Wind, Phase Dance (Better Days Ahead)

Chick Corea, Malcolm Addey - My One and Only Love (Now He Sings, Now He Sobs)

Rebecca Kilgore w Dave Frishberg - In the Land of Oo-Blah-Dee (Not a Care in the Wrld)

Jessica Molaskey & Dave Frishberg - My New Celebrity Is You (At the Algonquin)

Michael Feinstein - You Are There (Forever)

Maddie Pizzarelli - Nashville (single)

David Byrne - This Must Be the Place (American Utopia on Broadway OBC)

Kate McGarry - Anthem (What to Wear in the Dark)

Pat Martino - Both Sides Now (Cream)

The Highway Jazzmen - Auld Lang Syne (A Jazzy Christmas in Dixie)

Nelson Riddle – Naked City Theme