Awareity — Diocese of Green Bay
incident reporting system

Dear Parish Family,

Blessed be Jesus Christ who is compassionate and merciful! This weekend all of the readings have to do with showing mercy, being forgiven, and being willing to do the same with others. The Book of Wisdom reminds us this weekend, "Wrath and anger are hateful things, yet the sinner hugs them tight, the vengeful will suffer the Lord's vengeance ... remember death and decay... hate not your neighbor; remember the Most High's covenant, and overlook faults" (Wis 27:30-28:7).

There is an image to remember in this first reading — The sinner hugging tight wrath and anger along with some other sins that we may "love." As we picture this image in prayer, it is pathetic to think that some might be willing to hug in such a way something that is not good for us. It is illogical and incredibly hurtful to us and others. Yet, there is something that makes us embrace what is not good and healthy.

Most of these bad behaviors (sins) are embraced by us when we feel threatened or hurt. We can also try to fill in, by our own effort, what we "think" we are missing. We try to protect or provide for ourselves by acting up in ways that we may think are good like wrath, anger, envy, lust, among many other behaviors, but we end up empty, with regret, shame, sadness, or loneliness.

We all embrace some of these hurtful behaviors. We all get mad, act up, and explode at times. The Lord wants to remind us that we must think about "death and decay" (wis 27"30-28:7). We have been forgiven by God through the Sacrifice of Jesus Christ. Every time we confess our sins through the Sacrament of Penance, the Lord wipes our tears away and embraces us in our loneliness and fears. But He is asking us to do the same with others. To overlook people's faults and shortcomings so we can notice the presence of God in them. Jesus invites us to climb to the Cross and die to self with Him for the good of others. You and I have experienced His mercy, and we must become merciful ourselves for the sake of others.

The sinner embraces wrath and anger. What do you embrace? Do we really live our lives fully embracing the Lord Jesus, or are each of us more consumed by "my needs, my wants, my thoughts, my ways," etc., and end up getting caught in anger, resentment, bitterness, criticizing, and such? The Lord has been so good to you and me; how are we with others? The Lord forgives you; have we forgiven others?

In His Most Sacred Heart,
Fr. Jose

Estimada Familia Parroquial,

¡Bendito sea Jesucristo, que es compasivo y misericordioso! Este fin de semana todas las lecturas tratan sobre mostrar misericordia, ser perdonados y estar dispuestos a hacer lo mismo con los demás. El Libro de la Sabiduría nos recuerda este fin de semana: "El rencor y la cólera son cosas detestables, sin embargo el pecador se aferra a ellas; el Señor se vengará del vengativo ... piensa en tu fin y la corrupción ... no guardes rencor a tu prójimo; acuérdate de la alianza del Altísimo, y pasa por alto las ofensas." (Sab 27:30-28:7)

Hay una imagen que debemos recordar en esta primera lectura, El pecador abrazando con fuerza el rencor y la cólera, junto con otros pecados que quizás "amamos". Al imaginar esta escena en oración, resulta lamentable pensar que alguien esté dispuesto a abrazar de esa manera algo que no nos hace bien. Es ilógico e increíblemente doloroso para nosotros y para los demás. Y sin embargo, hay algo que nos lleva a abrazar lo que no es bueno ni saludable.

La mayoría de estos malos comportamientos (pecados) los abrazamos cuando nos sentimos amenazados o heridos. También intentamos llenar, con nuestro propio esfuerzo, lo que "creemos" que nos falta. Tratamos de protegernos o proveer para nosotros mismos actuando de maneras que quizás pensamos que son buenas, como la ira, el enojo, la envidia, la lujuria, entre muchos otros comportamientos, pero terminamos vacíos, con arrepentimiento, vergüenza, tristeza o soledad.

Todos abrazamos algunos de estos comportamientos dañinos. Todos nos enojamos, actuamos mal y explotamos en ciertos momentos. El Señor quiere recordarnos que debemos pensar en "la muerte y la corrupción" (Sab 27:30-28:7). Hemos sido perdonados por Dios a través del Sacrificio de Jesucristo. Cada vez que confesamos nuestros pecados por medio del Sacramento de la Penitencia, el Señor seca nuestras lágrimas y nos abraza en nuestra soledad y temores. Pero Él nos pide que hagamos lo mismo con los demás. Que pasemos por alto las faltas y debilidades de las personas para poder notar en ellas la presencia de Dios. Jesús nos invita a subir a la Cruz y morir a nosotros mismos junto con Él, por el bien de los demás. Tú y yo hemos experimentado su misericordia, y debemos volvernos misericordiosos nosotros mismos por el bien de los demás.

El pecador abraza el rencor y la cólera. ¿Qué abrazas tú? ¿Vivimos realmente nuestras vidas abrazando plenamente al Señor Jesús, o cada uno de nosotros está más consumido por "mis necesidades, mis deseos, mis pensamientos, mis maneras", etc., y terminamos atrapados en la ira, el resentimiento, la amargura, la crítica, y cosas así? El Señor ha sido tan bueno contigo y conmigo; ¿cómo somos con los demás? El Señor te perdona; ¿hemos perdonado a los demás?

En Su Sagrado Corazón,
P. José
