Sally leaves a legacy of love which she did with her whole heart and without judgement. Every one of her children and spouses, grandchildren and the unending list of friends she adopted into the family have been on the receiving end of this most precious gift. Sally's home was so filled with love that often her children's friends chose to spend their time at her home. She loved to laugh and celebrate with a beer or two as long as someone was joining her. She loved to smile and that was a beautiful thing to see.

Sally will be interned with Carl at Fort Sam Houston National Cemetery. A memorial will be held there (date to be determined) and a gathering following the memorial.
