Exiit qui seminat - "The sower goes out to sow"

This past Saturday, October the 18th, was the feast day of St. Luke the Evangelist. The Early Church Fathers (from the 1st to 8th centuries) attribute this physician and disciple of St. Paul to be the author of both his own Gospel as well as the Acts of the Apostles. Modern biblical scholars believe that both Luke and the Acts were originally one complete work that were separated, probably because of its length. Luke's Gospel is the largest of the Synoptic Gospels (Matthew, Mark and Luke) and was most likely written around 70 AD for Gentile Christians, reminding us that Christ is the Savior for all people, Jew and Gentile alike. While Matthew, Mark and Luke share common stories like the Parable of the Sower, Jesus' temptation in the desert, as well as the Calming of the Storm, Luke's Gospel has the most unique material not found in any other of the Synoptic Gospels - The Good Samaritan, the Parable of the Friend at Midnight, the Parable of the Rich Fool and the story of the Rich Man and Lazarus to name a few. Luke's Gospel is also unique in terms of his description of the Birth of our Lord. While Matthew's Infancy Narratives are written from the perspective of St. Joseph, Luke's account of the Birth of the Savior is from Mary's point of view. Luke gives us the accounts of the Annunciation, the Visitation, and the Presentation of the Christ Child in the Temple with Simeon and Anna. Luke is also known for his hymns throughout the account of the Nativity: the Magnificat of Mary (Luke 1:46-55), the Benedictus of Zachariah (Luke 1:68-79), and the Nunc Dimittis of Simeon (Luke 2:29-32) all serve as a bridge between the old covenant and the new covenant forged by Christ. Understanding and appreciating the Gospel according to St. Luke is essential because it offers a profound and compassionate portrait of Jesus Christ—one that emphasizes His mercy and concern for the marginalized. Luke invites readers to see God's love at work in the lives of the poor, the sinner, and the outcast, reminding us that salvation is offered to all people. By studying this Gospel, we not only deepen our understanding of Christ's teachings but also gain inspiration to live out our faith through compassion, forgiveness, and service. In appreciating Luke's message, we come closer to embodying the universal love and hope that stand at the heart of the Church. St. Luke, pray for us!

Banbury tarts are a traditional food at the fairs of Oxfordshire in England. These fairs are celebrated under the patronage of St. Luke. I've never actually made this recipe, but it does look delicious. Let me know if you've given this a try! <https://www.food.com/recipe/banbury-tarts-3183>

1st Reconciliation

Parent Meeting

Oct 27 - 7PM, STRS Hall

It's that time of year again!

Many of our young children will soon begin preparing to receive the Sacrament of Reconciliation for the first time. This is a beautiful Sacrament, instituted by Christ as a way for us to receive God's mercy and grace. It marks a very special time not only for our children, but also for their parents and families.

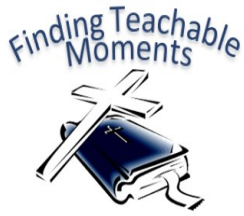

From the time your child was an infant, you have been teaching them how to make good choices and to recognize the difference between right and wrong. The preparation for First Reconciliation builds on that foundation in a new and meaningful way.

During our Parent Meeting, we will provide each family with a Preparation Packet that explains the how's, why's, and requirements of the Sacrament, along with details about our Family Component.

This is a mandatory meeting, where at least one parent must attend. We look forward to accompanying your family on this sacred journey of faith and forgiveness.

All Souls' Day

Mass of Remembrance

Holy Child Parish has a long tradition of offering a special Mass each November for our parishioners who have died during the past year. This is a beautiful way to remember your loved ones and to join with other families in praying for your beloved deceased. We know from Scripture that "...it is a good and holy thing to pray for the dead." Our hope is founded in the promise of eternal life, earned for us by Christ's death and Resurrection.

Saint Pope John Paul II tells us there is no better way to remember our loved ones than to join with the saints, in praying for those who await the Beatific vision, so join us as we present to the Father of all mercy our intentions for those who have died.
