

Infant of Prague Novena

Holy Child Parish

Day 1 of the Novena to the Infant of Prague

Trust in the Child Jesus

Welcome

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

We gather today in prayer to honor the Infant of Prague, trusting in His love, power, and mercy. As we spend this time with Him, we open our hearts to His grace and peace.

Opening Prayer

O sweet Child Jesus of Prague, I come before You with the heart of a child, aware of my weakness and my need for You.

Teach me to trust You completely not only with my words, but with my life. Amen.

Scripture

(Matthew 18:3-5)

Reader:

A Reading from the Gospel According to Matthew

Unless you change and become like children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven.
Whoever humbles himself like this child is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.”

The Gospel of the Lord.

All: Praise to You, Lord Jesus Christ.

Reflection:

Presider:

The Infant Jesus reminds us that God's strength is shown in weakness. As a child trusts completely in loving parents, we are called to trust God without fear. Today we ask for hearts that rely fully on Him, even when life feels uncertain.

All:

Infant Jesus, teach us to trust You completely. Help us place our worries and fears into Your hands. Amen.

Guided Reflection on the Infant of Prague

Reader: Child Jesus, You chose to come to us in smallness and vulnerability, inviting my heart to rest in Your love. Your tiny hands hold the power of heaven and earth, yet You ask only for my trust.

Today, I reflect on how easily fear replaces faith. When things feel uncertain, I try to control outcomes, to predict the future, to protect myself from disappointment.

But You gently call me to trust, not because I understand, but because You are good. Trusting You means believing that You are present even when I cannot see You working. It means surrendering my anxieties and placing my hopes in Your care. Like a child who rests peacefully in a parent's arms, I am invited to rest in You.

Child Jesus of Prague, help me to trust You with what weighs on my heart today. Increase my faith where it is weak, my hope where it is fragile, and my love where it is hesitant.

Presider:

In the quiet of our hearts, let us ask the Infant Jesus to help us trust like children, love with simplicity, and follow God's will with faith.

Day 2 of the Novena to the Infant of Prague Humility

Welcome

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

We gather today in prayer to honor the Infant of Prague, trusting in His love, power, and mercy. As we spend this time with Him, we open our hearts to His grace and peace.

Opening Prayer

O Holy Infant Jesus of Prague, You chose to come to us as a child small, humble, and full of love. We place ourselves before You with trust, knowing that You care for all our needs. Bless us as we reflect on Your life and grow in faith, hope, and love. Amen.

Reflection:

Presider: Jesus came into the world quietly, born in a humble place. He teaches us that greatness is found not in pride, but in humility. When we choose humility, we make room for God to work in us.

All: Infant Jesus, gentle and humble of heart, help us to be humble in our words and actions. Amen.

Guided Reflection on the Infant of Prague

Reader: Infant Jesus, You are the King of heaven and earth, yet You come to me as a child, small, dependent, and gentle. Your humility is not weakness, but love made visible.

Today I reflect on how often I resist humility. I want to be seen, understood, affirmed, and in control. Yet You show me another way: the way of surrender, silence, and trust. You remind me that humility is not thinking less of myself but thinking of myself less. It is accepting my limitations and allowing You to be my strength.

Infant of Prague, help me to let go of comparison and self-importance. Teach me to accept correction without resentment, to serve without seeking praise, and to rely on You in my weakness. May my heart become small enough for You to dwell in it fully.

In the quiet of our hearts, let us ask the Infant Jesus to help us trust like children, love with simplicity, and follow God's will with faith.

Welcome

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

We gather today in prayer to honor the Infant of Prague, trusting in His love, power, and mercy. As we spend this time with Him, we open our hearts to His grace and peace.

Opening Prayer

Infant Jesus of Prague, You who submitted Yourself to the care of Mary and Joseph, teach me the grace of obedience. Calm my restless spirit, soften my resistance, and help me to desire God's will above my own.
Amen.

Reflection:

Presider:

The Child Jesus lived in obedience to Mary and Joseph. Through this,
He shows us how obedience leads to peace and blessing. Obeying
God's will brings us closer to Him.

All:

Infant Jesus, obedient Son of God, help us follow God's will with love and trust. Amen.

Guided Reflection on the Infant of Prague

Reader: Infant Jesus, though You are eternal Word and divine Wisdom, You chose to grow in silence, patience, and obedience. You trusted the Father's plan completely, even when it unfolded slowly and quietly.

Today, I reflect on how often I struggle with God's will. I want clarity, speed, and certainty. I resist waiting. I resist surrender. Yet You teach me that obedience is an act of love, not loss.

In Your hidden life, You show me that holiness is often found in ordinary duties, faithful perseverance, and trusting acceptance of what God permits.

Infant of Prague, help me to obey even when I do not understand. When God's will feels difficult or unclear, give me the grace to say, "Jesus, I trust in You."

May my obedience be simple, sincere, and loving offered not out of fear, but out of confidence in the Father's care.

Presider:

In the quiet of our hearts, let us ask the Infant Jesus to help us trust like children, love with simplicity, and follow God's will with faith.

Opening Prayer

O Infant Jesus of Prague, You who lived a hidden life of love and fidelity, draw my heart into faithfulness in the ordinary moments of my day. Teach me to love You not only in great acts, but in quiet perseverance and daily surrender. Amen.

Reflection:

Presider:

Most of Jesus' childhood was quiet and hidden. This teaches us that God is present in ordinary moments. Faithfulness in small things prepares us for greater blessings.

All:

Infant Jesus, help us serve You faithfully in our daily duties. Amen.

Guided Reflection on the Infant of Prague

Reader: Infant Jesus, You sanctified the smallness of daily life, the ordinary hours, the unnoticed tasks, the quiet obedience of a child at home. You did not seek attention or recognition.
Your holiness grew in silence, in simple love, in steady faithfulness.

Today, I bring before You my daily responsibilities my work, my family, my obligations, my routines. At times they feel repetitive, unseen, or unimportant. Yet You remind me that nothing offered in love is ever wasted.

Teach me to be faithful when no one is watching.
Faithful in prayer, even when it feels dry.
Faithful in kindness, even when it goes unnoticed.
Faithful in doing what is right, even when it is difficult.
Infant of Prague, transform my ordinary moments into places of grace.
May each small act of love become a gift to You.

Presider:

In the quiet of our hearts, let us ask the Infant Jesus to help us trust like children, love with simplicity, and follow God's will with faith.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

We gather today in prayer to honor the Infant of Prague, trusting in His love, power, and mercy. As we spend this time with Him, we open our hearts to His grace and peace.

Opening Prayer

O loving Infant Jesus of Prague, You who came into the world as Love made flesh, kindle in my heart a deeper charity. Teach me to love as You love freely, humbly, and without counting the cost. Amen.

Reflection:

Presider:

The Infant of Prague holds the world in His hand, reminding us of His love for all people. When we love others, we reflect the love of Christ to the world.

All:

Infant Jesus, full of love, teach us to love others as You love us.
Amen.

Guided Reflection on the Infant of Prague

Reader: Infant Jesus, Your first gift to the world was love, a love that made You small, vulnerable, and close to us. In Your gentle presence, I learn that true charity begins not in great gestures, but in a heart willing to give itself.

Today, I reflect on how easily love can become conditional. I love when it is returned, when it is easy, when it is recognized. Yet You call me to a deeper charity, a love that is patient, forgiving, and self-giving.

Teach me to see You in others, especially in those who challenge me. Help me to speak with kindness, to act with compassion, and to forgive as I have been forgiven.

Infant of Prague, may my love reflect Yours simple, sincere, and generous. Let every act of charity, however small, be offered as a gift to You.

Presider:

In the quiet of our hearts, let us ask the Infant Jesus to help us trust like children, love with simplicity, and follow God's will with faith.

Reader: Infant Jesus, You come to me not with noise or force, but with gentleness and calm. In Your smallness, You reveal a peace the world cannot give.

Today, I bring You my worries, my inner restlessness, and the concerns that disturb my heart. So often, I allow fear of the future or regret over the past to steal my peace. You remind me that true peace is not the absence of problems, but the presence of trust. When I place my life in Your hands, I no longer need to carry everything alone.

Infant of Prague, teach me to let go of what I cannot control. Help me to accept each moment as a gift from God. May my heart become still, confident that You are near. Remain with me in silence and let Your peace take root within me.

Opening Prayer

O merciful Infant Jesus of Prague, You who come to us with open arms and a tender heart, teach me the way of mercy. Soften what is hardened within me, heal old wounds, and grant me the grace to forgive as I have been forgiven. Amen.

Reflection:

Presider: Jesus came as a child to save us through mercy, not judgment. He invites us to forgive others as we have been forgiven.

All: Infant Jesus, rich in mercy, help us forgive and seek forgiveness with love. Amen.

Guided Reflection on the Infant of Prague

Reader: Infant Jesus, You reveal God's mercy not through power or judgment, but through closeness, gentleness, and compassion. Even as a child, Your presence speaks forgiveness and peace.

Today, I reflect on the places in my heart where forgiveness feels difficult. Memories of hurt, misunderstanding, or betrayal can quietly take root, stealing joy and peace. You remind me that mercy is not forgetting the wound, but choosing love over resentment. Forgiveness does not excuse wrongdoing, but it frees the heart from the weight of anger.

Infant of Prague, help me to receive God's mercy first to believe that I am loved, forgiven, and never abandoned. From that grace, give me the strength to extend mercy to others. May my heart become like Yours open, gentle, and ready to forgive.

Presider:

In the quiet of our hearts, let us ask the Infant Jesus to help us trust like children, love with simplicity, and follow God's will with faith.

All: Infant Jesus, our hope, strengthen our faith in God's promises.
Amen

Guided Reflection on the Infant of Prague

Reader: Infant Jesus, in Your small and fragile presence, God's greatest promise was fulfilled. You remind me that God's promises often arrive quietly, unexpectedly, and in ways I do not anticipate.

Today, I bring You my waiting the prayers that seem unanswered, the hopes delayed, the future that feels unclear. At times, disappointment whispers that hope is foolish. Yet You teach me that hope is not wishful thinking, but confident trust that God is faithful to His word. Even when circumstances do not change, hope keeps my heart anchored in God's love.

Infant of Prague, help me to trust God's promises even when I cannot see their fulfillment. Strengthen my patience, renew my courage, and remind me that God's timing is perfect. May my hope rest not in outcomes, but in the unchanging love of God.

Opening Prayer

O Infant Jesus of Prague, I come before You at the close of this novena with a heart that desires to trust You completely. Take all that I am, all that I fear, and all that I hope for, and place it safely in Your loving care. Amen.

Reflection:

Presider: The Infant of Prague invites us to surrender everything to Him. When we place our lives in His care, He blesses us according to God's perfect plan.

Prayer:

All: Infant Jesus of Prague, we place our lives and intentions in Your hands.

Guided Reflection on the Infant of Prague

Reader: Infant Jesus, You rest peacefully in the arms of Mary, fully trusting the Father's will. In Your smallness, You teach me the deepest surrender to let myself be carried by God.

Throughout this novena, You have invited me again and again to release control, to trust without seeing, and to surrender without fear. Yet surrender is difficult. I want assurance, certainty, and guarantees. You remind me that complete trust does not mean the absence of struggle, but the decision to place everything into God's hands, even the unanswered prayers and the unknown future.

Infant of Prague, today I surrender my plans, my relationships, my burdens, and my desires. I surrender my novena intention, trusting that You will care for it better than I ever could. May my heart rest in the peace that comes from knowing I am loved, held, and never alone.

Presider:

In the quiet of our hearts, let us ask the Infant Jesus to help us trust like children, love with simplicity, and follow God's will with faith.

O Jesus, who has said: “Whatever you ask of the Father in My Name, He will give you,” through the intercession of Mary, Your Most Holy Mother, I humbly and confidently ask Your Father in Your Name to grant my prayer.

(Mention your intention again)

O Jesus, who has said: “Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My word shall not pass away,” through the intercession of Mary, Your Most Holy Mother, I feel confident that my prayer will be granted.

Divine Infant Jesus, I know You love me and would never leave me. I thank You for Your close Presence in my life. Miraculous Infant, I believe in Your promise of peace, blessings, and freedom from want. I place every need and care in Your hands.

Lord Jesus, may I always trust in Your generous mercy and love. I want to honor and praise You, now and forever. Amen.

Our Father, Hail Mary, Glory Be.
