A MESSAGE FROM THE CAMP DIRECTOR

Every Wednesday morning at 8:30am, our Seattle collegiate team prayer walks the University of Washington (UW) campus and athletic facilities. We pray for impact, open doors for the gospel to be known, and for disciples and disciple makers so that the great commission might come to life and go to the nations from such an unlikely source, Seattle, WA.

Seeing the eternal transformation of lives come to life through a catalytic experience like our FCA Multi-Sports Camp is truly indescribable. This photo above shows the end of week impact statements every camper has the chance to publicly declare of how they first arrived and the transformation Jesus has made in their life as they go home (Psalm 107:2).

What I love most is that this week doesn't just aim to serve the hundreds of middle school and high school athletes increasing their faith and improving in their sport, it empowers a generation of college athletes to lead, it blesses coaches and their families, and it unites and connects our local churches across the region.

As we make this big step in faith to host camp at UW, we ask for your prayerful consideration in reaching our goal of raising $150,000 to offset our initial camp estimated cost of $500,000 while providing over $50,000 for need based scholarships. We are eager to see how God moves and draws us closer to Him in these efforts. It's because of champions like you that a movement like this happens.

Respectfully,
JJ Breilh

CAMP SPOTLIGHT

Claire Cunningham - UW Rower &
Camp Huddle Leader

Being a huddle leader at FCA Camp this summer is an experience I will never forget. Growing up Christian and staying strong in my faith, I cherished walking alongside campers who were seeking Christ or deepening their faith. Praying with them and helping them understand the love of the Lord showed me how powerful FCA Camp truly is.

I went into Camp nervous, unsure if I was ready to lead, but with support from mentors and the guidance of Christ, I found confidence. That experience taught me trust, humility, and what it means to step into God's calling.

My time on the UW Women's Rowing Team has shaped me through unity, accountability, and resilience, and those lessons naturally carried over into my role as a huddle leader. Encouraging campers with teamwork, perseverance, and positivity made me realize how transformational Camp can be.

Bringing FCA Camp to the University of Washington would be a dream. I grew up just 15 minutes away, and now as a student-athlete, I admire UW not only for its beauty but for the community and strength it represents. I hope future campers can come here and experience that same beauty—in the campus, in God's creation, and in a place that has shaped me as a student, athlete, and believer.
