About Gamepatch

Gamepatch.

Your body is a fine instrument.

How you prepare it for game-time is your own decision.

When the lights go out and action starts it is your responsibility to give your body the best possible support. We're talking about the long run. Not just today or tomorrow. Every single time.

When in the midst of the action, you need lightness, fluidity and ease of movement. Less bruises, less trauma, less pain. It's rather a choice you make every day.

Are you up to the task and ready to face the challenge?

Shield that covers the most vulnerable spots. Adapts to your body shape and absorbs impact. Innovative technology combined with high-end materials. All crafted in your sportswear.

Gamepatch. Your game time partner.

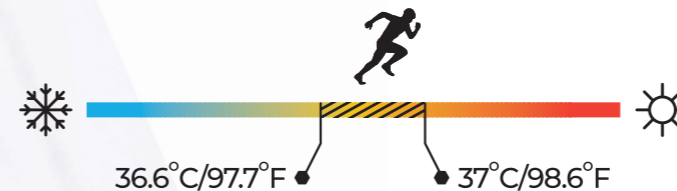

What makes us different?

Gamepatch padded compression wear was created by a team of dedicated scientists and sports enthusiasts. The main advantage of our products is the unique patent-pending body adjust technology (BAT) which ensures superior protection and comfort to athletes.

How does the Body Adjust Technology work?

The highest functionality of the padding is achieved at 36.6° - 37°C (97.7° - 98.6° F). Once you warm up and your body reaches the optimal temperature the BAT technology activates. The padding gets softer and takes its form around the body making it incredibly comfortable.

Main product features:

Shock Absorbing

Despite thinner padding our padded compression gear can absorb hits 20% more effectively than other brands. After impact, the padding instantly takes back its form and is ready to absorb the next impact.

Adjusting to Body

When the padding gets in touch with the body heat, it reacts to temperature and takes less than a minute for it to become softer, more flexible, and take custom form around the body.

Thin & Light

With Gamepatch protective gear you can forget about bulkiness. Extremely thin yet highly effective protective padding allows you to experience high level of comfort. Thanks to its ergonomic design, it feels like as not wearing any padding at all.

Durability

When you combine innovative design, resilient protective padding with high-quality compression fabric you get durability like no others. However, please note that the padding is not abrasion resistant, therefore, it can burn from slides on the floor which can leave visual defects.

Premium Quality

Gamepatch products conform to the highest standards of quality and are handcrafted in Europe.

PADDED COMPRESSION WEAR
