As an assisted living administrator, I understand the importance of providing information and resources that are relevant and engaging to our residents. One topic that often sparks interest and curiosity among our community is the benefits of lifelong learning.

In our facility, we believe that learning is a lifelong journey that knows no age limits. Whether it's exploring a new hobby, mastering a skill, or delving into a subject of personal interest, there are endless opportunities for growth and enrichment at every stage of life.

Research has shown that staying mentally active through learning can have a positive impact on cognitive function and overall well-being, helping to maintain sharpness and cognitive vitality. Additionally, learning new things can boost self-esteem and confidence, foster a sense of accomplishment, and provide opportunities for social interaction and connection with others who share similar interests.

To support our residents in their pursuit of lifelong learning, we offer a variety of educational programs and activities tailored to their interests and preferences. From art projects and book clubs to current events discussions and music therapy, there's something for everyone to explore and enjoy.

Rose Burke

Personality Profiles

Rose Burke was born on December 10, 1946, in Buffalo. Her parents were Louis and Josephine father was a tool and die maker and mom worked at Westinghouse only during the war. Rose is the second child in the lineup of four children. There are younger brothers Joe and Charles, and older sister Joanne. Rose completed all her education in the Amherst school district. After graduation, she attended beauty school at the BOCES Harkness Center in Cheektowaga. While attending that program, she developed an allergy to hair dye and other hair products, which prevented her from becoming a hairdresser. What she discovered was a passion for nail design. Rose completed her course work and set out as a nail technician. For over thirty years, Rose artfully designed and skillfully applied acrylic nails to her clientele. She had worked for others and owned her business as well, working from home when raising the family.

Brancato. Rose's

Christopher Burke met Rose in a restaurant. They were members of the same social club. He approached her to dance, and after a few whirls around the dance floor asked her on a date. They went to a show and dated for eight years. They were engaged for six months, soon married and then it was off to Niagara Falls for a romantic honeymoon getaway. Chris and Rose share one child, Christopher. He works as a manager for a company in Seattle. There is one grandson.

Rose's zeal for nails was felt early on. Her boss at the time saw a talent in her and encouraged her to enter an acrylic design contest. She won the contest and not only received a monetary reward but also a write-up in a magazine for her unique horse design.

One fun fact about Rose is that she has a pen pal. She started writing at age sixteen to her great unknown from New Zealand. Her name was Carol. That friendship blossomed and continues to this day with three visits to the country down under.

Carla Suero, President

Heathwood
Emphasis

Every year in the spring, it gives us pleasure to honor staff and celebrate the more than 48 years since we opened our doors to care for seniors. On May 13, we got all gussied up for our annual dinner at Park Country Club in Williamsville and honored employees for their years of service. Of sixty-five staff who have worked with us for five years or more, 49 are from our Williamsville location, and 16 are from Penfield.

The Service Excellence Award is given annually to 2 employees who exhibit our four core values—Teamwork, Reverence for the Individual, Integrity, and a Passion for Excellence. From Williamsville, we selected Dining Services Manager Kristen Carosi, who rejoined our Heathwood team in 2020. Fun fact, Kristen came back to Heathwood a few times since 2001, so she is unofficially considered a 25-year employee, give or take a few years. We are thrilled she is back “home”.

At Penfield, we chose Assistant Dining Services Manager Ronnie Redd, who has worked with us since 2017. Ronnie has done everything in the kitchen over the past 9 years, and we feel very lucky to have someone so committed and hard-working. We are grateful for these two employees who excel in providing service to others, and for all staff who give of themselves so that our residents can thrive where they are.
