Take a look at these fabulous plastic houses that we've flipped in our Rags to Riches event. Want to do your own? Of course you do! The Create team offered a special ZOOM session on November 12th to share tips and techniques for turning these little raggedy houses (which are quarter inch scale-ish and come with some basic furniture) into riches (you can see the recording for this session on the Videos page here). We've also got a couple of challenges (with some special prizes for the lucky winners) to encourage you to participate in the fun. (Click here for more info on the challenges)

These are some of the sample houses that other people did.

From Kathleen Watkins:

Here's my flip. I bought 2 houses. Are you a good witch or a bad witch? If you notice, I added a twine tree and both the witches park their mode of transportation by their front door.

From Pam Doran:

I still have to add flower boxes under all windows and tweak it a bit. It was fun!

From Jean Smith (Rusty):

From Evelyn Gumina:

I created this house for the Rags to Riches (Flipping a Plastic House) Challenge using two plastic houses. It also happens to fall into the January 2023 'Let it Snow' Challenge. The outdoor scene was created using $1.25 store finds (a credit to Laura Miller, who spotted the items at her local $1.25 store). On the second floor is a doll which I named 'Charlene Darling', which was created by Jackie Williams.

Sherril Lackey made quite a few. Here are the houses that she did.

Kim Hood completely transformed hers!

Barbara Thornton-Hill made a scary Halloween House (this looks spooky enough the way it is ... but it's still a work in progress, so watch for more pics!)

Now complete is this lovely gingerbread house from Preble McDaniel.

Alician Pearce combined two houses (you can stack these houses to get a multiple story dwelling, or link them together for a rambling ranch style home).

Create's own Debbie Colombo turned her house into a celebration of Valentine's Day

Guest Artisan, Luci Seiler, is also doing a gingerbread house, and this is also in progress.

Also from guest artisan Luci Seiler is this "riches" version of the house.

Julie Stuckmeyer has made a Bee House.

And Janet Smith did an "Under the Sea" house (complete with Sponge Bob showing on the television.)

Donations for the house are now closed.
Thanks so much to all who participated!
We hope you will join in on our challenges!
