

The 2022 Professional Women's Conference of Canada

The Funeral Service Association of Canada (FSAC) in partnership with the National Funeral Directors Association (NFDA) will be hosting the 2022 Professional Women's Conference of Canada. Known as the profession's leading gathering for women in funeral service, the event in Canada will take place November 4-6, 2022, at the Omni King Edward Hotel in Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

This event promises to be a weekend of luxury and a time to connect with ladies in funeral service and build truly meaningful connections.

Attendees can kick off their Professional Women's Conference experience by participating in the optional NFDA Arranger Training program on November 4. Led by NFDA Training and Development Manager Melissa Loose, attendees will learn how to make the most of arrangement conferences through a creative, five-step process you will only discover during the NFDA Arranger Training workshop. This workshop is open to everyone!

Attendees can expect engaging conference sessions led by experts covering a wide range of topics:

- Reconnection: Building a Foundation of Authentic Relationships presented by Dr. Jody Carrington, a renowned psychologist
- Children and Grief presented by Annette March-Grier, a leader in grief education and support
- Progressive Desairlogy for the Modern Embalmer presented by Monica Torres, owner of NXT Generation Mortuary Support
- Movement & Posture; The Path to Equity, Inclusion, and Action presented by Dianne Bondy, social justice activist and author
- Medical Assistance in Dying (MAiD) and Reflections for Funeral Professionals presented by Tekla Hendrickson and Mona Kornberg, Executive Director and Project Manager of MAiDHouse
- And more.

A fantastic social evening is being planned for the Saturday evening, that delegates will not want to miss!
