INTERNAL USE ONLY

A close-up photograph of three modern door handles. The handles are made of brass with a chrome plating, giving them a bright, reflective finish. They have a cylindrical, lever-style design. The handles are arranged diagonally across the frame, with the one in the foreground being slightly out of focus compared to the others. They are set against a dark, textured background, possibly a door or a wall. The lighting highlights the metallic sheen and the smooth curves of the handles.
