COMMISSION AGREEMENT

I understand that this is original, hand-painted custom artwork. The 50% deposit is non-refundable once work on the commissioned artwork has begun. Minor artistic interpretation is part of the hand-painted process.

Progress Updates: Art by Anya will provide progress updates during creation so you can follow your piece as it comes to life.

Artwork may change considerably between stages as layers, details, and finishing touches are added.

Minor adjustments may be requested during the painting process. Significant changes to the original approved concept may result in an additional charge.
