"Let your 'Yes' mean 'Yes,' and your 'No' mean 'No.'" (Matthew 5:37)

"Que tu 'Sí' sea 'Sí' y tu 'No' sea 'No.'"
(Mateo 5:37)

Reflection:

In this passage from the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus emphasizes the importance of sincerity and integrity in our words and actions. We are called to be truthful and straightforward, avoiding deception and duplicity. When our yes is truly yes, and our no is truly no, we reflect God's truth in our lives, building trust and authenticity in our relationships. As followers of Christ, let us strive to communicate honestly and live with integrity, ensuring our commitments are a reflection of our faith.

Socratic Question:

How can you practice honesty and integrity in your daily conversations with others?

Reflexión:

En este pasaje del Sermón de la Montaña, Jesús enfatiza la importancia de la sinceridad e integridad en nuestras palabras y acciones. Estamos llamados a ser veraces y directos, evitando el engaño y la duplicidad. Cuando nuestro sí es verdaderamente sí, y nuestro no es verdaderamente no, reflejamos la verdad de Dios en nuestras vidas, construyendo confianza y autenticidad en nuestras relaciones. Como seguidores de Cristo, esforcémonos por comunicar con honestidad y vivir con integridad, asegurando que nuestros compromisos sean un reflejo de nuestra fe.

Pregunta socrática:

¿Cómo puedes practicar la honestidad e integridad en tus conversaciones diarias con los demás?

“Blessed are they who follow the law of the Lord!” (Psalm 119:1)

Dear Parish Family and Friends,

The readings for the sixth Sunday of Ordinary Time invite us to reflect on the distinction between Divine Law—God’s unchanging commands guiding our relationship with Him—and Moral Law, which shapes our actions toward others through human reason and conscience. In recent decades, popular images of Jesus have at times oversimplified these concepts. When people depict Jesus and His teachings in ways that make His message seem easily adaptable to contemporary life, we may be tempted to overlook the depth and demands of the Gospel. However, such portrayals can distract us from the essence of His mission. Jesus came to fulfill the law and the prophets. He dedicated Himself to saving souls and leading them to the Father. As disciples, we ought to study His words and intentionally align our lives and choices with His teachings. Otherwise, the faith we profess can become merely surface-level interpretation lacking depth for His mission.

In contemporary society, outward displays of ethical or moral behavior can sometimes conceal inner corruption and malice. This contrast between visible morality and hidden wrongdoing, sometimes termed “pharisaic faith,” arises when external religiosity masks the absence of genuine inner transformation. Jesus calls us to move beyond appearances and embrace internal change if we are to be His disciples and share the Good News universally. Upon honest reflection, we recognize that we cannot achieve sainthood, morality, or ethical living on our own. We require the gifts and wisdom of the Holy Spirit. Let us actively seek this inner transformation, committing ourselves daily to reflect God’s love and presence authentically to those around us.

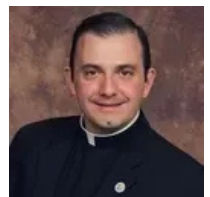

In a world often marked by conflict, confusion, and moral struggle, imagine sitting at the breakfast table. Your eyes rest on a headline in the newspaper that starkly reads of yet another conflict tearing lives apart. Amidst the clatter of dishes and the strains of family conversation, the world’s turmoil feels more personal. This everyday scene prompts a deeper question: Are we dependent upon the power of Jesus’ love and open to His Holy Spirit in our lives? When we look at our failings as the Body of Christ, we realize we have fallen short. Recognizing that we share in the brokenness of our world, can we choose to consciously and intentionally follow Jesus? We are not left to our own fallen human devices. Christ’s love is our only salvation!

Our Lenten Season will begin soon, and now is the time for us to actively begin our Lenten practices of prayer, fasting, and almsgiving. Let us commit together to embracing these practices wholeheartedly as we prepare our hearts for Easter. On Ash Wednesday, we will have two Masses at 8:00am, one in the shrine and the other in the St. John XXIII Center. At 5:00pm, we will have Masses in the Shrine and the Center. Our last Mass of the day will be at 7:00pm in Spanish at the Center. As a note to parishioners, ashes will be distributed during the Masses. We invite you to join us in celebrating this opportunity to encounter Jesus Christ anew.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Reverend Alonzo M. García, Pastor

“Dichoso el que cumple la voluntad del Señor.” (Salmo 118:1)

Estimada familia parroquial y amigos:

Las lecturas del Sexto Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario nos invitan a reflexionar sobre la diferencia entre la Ley Divina —los mandamientos inmutables de Dios que guían nuestra relación con Él— y la Ley Moral, que orienta nuestras acciones hacia los demás por medio de la razón y la conciencia. En las últimas décadas, algunas imágenes populares de Jesús han simplificado en exceso estos conceptos. Cuando presentamos a Jesús y sus enseñanzas como algo que puede adaptarse fácilmente a la mentalidad moderna, corremos el riesgo de perder de vista la profundidad y las exigencias del Evangelio. Sin embargo, esas interpretaciones pueden distraernos de la esencia de su misión. Jesús vino a dar cumplimiento a la ley y a los profetas. Se entregó por completo para salvar almas y conducirlos al Padre. Como discípulos, estamos llamados a estudiar sus palabras y a alinear intencionalmente nuestras vidas y decisiones con sus enseñanzas. De lo contrario, la fe que profesamos puede quedarse en lo superficial, sin la profundidad que su misión requiere.

En la sociedad actual, las apariencias de conducta ética o moral a veces pueden ocultar luchas internas y debilidades. Este contraste entre una moral visible y una realidad interior distinta —lo que a veces se llama una fe “farisaica”— surge cuando la religiosidad externa no va acompañada de una verdadera transformación del corazón. Jesús nos llama a ir más allá de las apariencias y a permitir un cambio interior real si queremos ser sus discípulos y anunciar la Buena Nueva. Con una reflexión sincera, reconocemos que no podemos alcanzar la santidad ni vivir una vida moral auténtica por nuestras propias fuerzas. Necesitamos los dones y la sabiduría del Espíritu Santo. Busquemos activamente esa transformación interior, comprometiéndonos cada día a reflejar de manera auténtica el amor y la presencia de Dios ante los demás.

En un mundo marcado con frecuencia por el conflicto, la confusión y las luchas morales, imaginemos que estamos sentados a la mesa del desayuno y leemos un titular más sobre un nuevo conflicto que destruye vidas. Entre el ruido cotidiano del hogar, los problemas del mundo se sienten más cercanos y personales. Ese momento nos lleva a preguntarnos: ¿Dependemos verdaderamente del poder del amor de Jesús? ¿Estamos abiertos a la acción de su Espíritu Santo en nuestras vidas? Al mirar nuestras fallas como Cuerpo de Cristo, reconocemos que hemos quedado cortos. Al mismo tiempo, reconocemos que compartimos la fragilidad y las heridas de nuestro mundo. Pero no estamos abandonados a nuestras propias fuerzas. ¡El amor de Cristo es nuestra salvación!

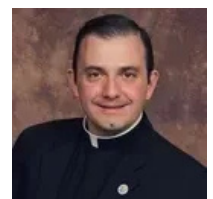

Nuestro tiempo de Cuaresma comenzará pronto y ahora es el momento de iniciar, con mayor intención, nuestras prácticas cuaresmales de oración, ayuno y limosna. Comprometámonos juntos a vivirlas con generosidad mientras preparamos nuestro corazón para la Pascua.

El Miércoles de Ceniza tendremos dos Misas a las 8:00am, una en el Santuario y otra en el Centro San Juan XXIII. A las 5:00pm también habrá Misa en el Santuario y en el Centro. Nuestra última Misa del día será a las 7:00 pm, en español, en el Centro. Las cenizas se distribuirán durante las Misas. Los invitamos a acompañarnos en este inicio sagrado de la Cuaresma y a encontrarnos nuevamente con Jesucristo.

Sinceramente en Cristo,

Reverendo Alonzo M. García, Pastor

GOSPEL MEDITATION

IN THE MATTHEW 5:17-37,

In this part of the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus teaches us that He came not to abolish the law, but to fulfill it. He explains that true righteousness goes beyond mere external actions. Instead, it involves a sincere transformation of the heart. Jesus invites us to consider the deeper meaning of the commandments, calling us to live with genuine love and integrity. He emphasizes that our words and actions should align with the love and truth of God. By letting our "Yes" mean "Yes" and our "No" mean "No," we cultivate a life rooted in honesty and authenticity, reflecting God's goodness to all those we meet.

Reflection Question:

How can you ensure that your daily choices reflect the genuine love and integrity that Jesus calls us to live by?

EN MATEO 5:17-37,

En esta parte del Sermón de la Montaña, Jesús nos enseña que Él vino no para abolir la ley, sino para cumplirla. Nos explica que la verdadera justicia va más allá de las acciones externas. En cambio, implica una transformación sincera del corazón. Jesús nos invita a considerar el significado más profundo de los mandamientos, llamándonos a vivir con amor e integridad genuinos. Él enfatiza que nuestras palabras y acciones deben alinearse con el amor y la verdad de Dios. Al dejar que nuestro "Sí" sea "Sí" y nuestro "No" sea "No," cultivamos una vida basada en la honestidad y la autenticidad, reflejando la bondad de Dios a todos los que encontramos.

Pregunta de reflexión:

¿Cómo puedes asegurarte de que tus elecciones diarias reflejen el amor genuino y la integridad a los que Jesús nos llama a vivir?

SAINT SPOTLIGHT

SAINT PETER DAMIAN

Feast Day: February 21st

Patronage:

Saint Peter Damian is the patron saint of those suffering from insomnia and is also invoked against headaches.

Story: Saint Peter Damian was born around 1007 in Ravenna, Italy. He became an orphan at a young age and was raised by his older brother. Recognizing Peter's exceptional intellect and faith, another brother, a priest, took him in and ensured he received a proper education. Peter developed a deep love for learning and spirituality. He entered the Benedictine monastery of Fonte Avellana, where he embraced a life of simplicity, prayer, and study.

Peter's dedication to the monastic life and reform of the Church led him to become a prominent figure in the 11th century. He was appointed as a cardinal by Pope Stephen IX and served as a papal legate, working to address issues of corruption and moral laxity within the Church. Peter was known for his writings and teachings, particularly his theological and spiritual works, which emphasized penance, humility, and the importance of aligning one's life with the teachings of Christ.

Legacy: Saint Peter Damian is remembered as a reformer and advocate for ecclesiastical and spiritual renewal. His insistence on moral integrity and discipline in both the clergy and laity had a lasting impact on the Church. He was declared a Doctor of the Church in 1828 by Pope Leo XII, recognizing his significant contributions to theology and church reform.

Story:

Saint Peter Damian was born a very long time ago, around the year 1007, in Italy. He lost his parents when he was young, but his big brother took care of him. Peter was super smart and loved learning, so another brother, who was a priest, helped him go to school.

When Peter grew up, he decided to become a monk, which meant he lived with other men who loved God and wanted to do good things. They spent their days praying, learning about God, and helping others. Peter was very wise, so he wrote books to teach people about living a good, honest life. He also worked with the Pope to help fix problems in the Church and make sure everyone was living according to Jesus' teachings.

Saint Peter Damian is remembered as a smart and kind person who helped the Church become better and stronger. He taught people how to live the way God wants and made a big difference in making things right.
