From My Desk... The Spiritual Problems of Rabbis

Recently, I had lunch with a dear friend (I'll call him "W") who happens to be a retired rabbi. Our friendship reaches back many years. I always enjoy seeing him, as we share jokes and funny stories. But this particular lunch meeting was a bit more serious and reflective, as W had just reached his 80th birthday.

W told me that he was going through a crisis of faith.

My friend has preached about G-d and spiritual matters all his life. He has taught Biblical literature and Jewish philosophy, and now, he admitted that he was experiencing a crisis of faith. Now, it's important to understand what a crisis of faith is, and what it is not. It is not a crisis of faith when an individual simply says, "I do not believe in G-d." A crisis of faith arises when someone seriously questions his long-held religious beliefs, and suffers from feeling alienated from G-d. It is especially keen in people who are deeply knowledgeable about their faith, and have lived a life closely attached to G-d.

"What prompted this crisis?" I asked him. W told me that if Judaism portrays G-d as loving and kind, "He is doing a good job of hiding it. With the world in such disarray, and the Jewish people under attack around the world, I can't pray to G-d without wondering whether my words have any meaning anymore. I sometimes wonder whether I can even speak of a relationship with G-d anymore."

"Do you still believe there is a G-d?" I asked. He paused.

"I believe there is a G-d who cares about the world, only because not believing would be worse for me, personally."

My friends, I can't say I was shocked. Judaism must deal with this problem because of the very nature of placing one's trust in an unseeable G-d. I sympathize with W. I wanted to help my friend. We spoke at length about the very personal and approachable G-d of Hasidism versus the G-d of Maimonides, who is beyond comprehension and difficult to approach.

Of course, W is familiar with much of what we spoke about. A Jew going through a crisis of faith does well to think deeply about which kind of G-d makes sense to him. And, it is in the very act of searching - really searching - that the possibility of rapprochement with G-d exists.

Maimonidean and Hasidic thought both teach us that pursuing the search is key. Indeed, if we don't look for G-d, we will certainly never find Him. Moreover, if the Jew won't look for G-d, who will? That reminds me of a Hasidic story from G-d's perspective, and (as it were) "the crisis of faith in Man" that G-d experiences.

FROM THE RABBI'S DESK...

The grandson of Rebbe Baruch of Medziboz, Yechiel Michal, was playing hide-and-seek with another boy. He hid himself well and waited for his friend to search for him. After waiting for a long time, he came out of his hiding place, but his friend was nowhere to be seen. It suddenly dawned upon the young Yechiel that his partner had not sought him out at all. The distraught child broke into tears and ran to the study of his grandfather. As the boy complained about his unkind friend, tears began to roll from the eyes of the Rebbe, and he said, "Indeed. That's exactly what the Almighty Himself says: 'I hide myself but nobody wants to look for Me.'"

ABOUT THE YIZKOR BOOK OF REMEMBRANCE

Every year, in preparation of the High Holidays, the names of those for a memorial plaque has been purchased are listed in the YIZKOR BOOK OF REMEMBRANCE which is disseminated for Yizkor Services on Yom Kippur, Shemini Atzeret, Pesach, and Shavuot.

For Yom Kippur, the names of loved ones who do NOT have a plaque, may be listed on an insert in the Yizkor Book of Remembrance for Yom Kippur only.

This year, in place of the small cards we have used in the past for submitting names for the Yizkor Book of Remembrance Insert, we have included a full-size paper for you to complete and return to the Temple office no later than October 7th to ensure your loved ones' names are included on the Book of Remembrance Yom Kippur Insert.

Please print the names as you want them listed. A donation is customary, but is not required for names listed on the Yom Kippur Insert.

For more information, please call the Temple Office at 330.759.1429.

President's Corner...

As we enter the New Year 5785, our Jewish community, both locally and worldwide, face challenges old and new. We must address them with our prayer that this season will offer new home for a better year ahead.

We can only created this positive experience with all of us continuing to offer our commitment to Temple El Emeth. Under the leadership of Rabbi Sternstein, your dedicated Board of Directors and Committee Chairpersons, the New Year will allow our religious services, programs and special events to be meaningful to every member.

However, this success depends upon all of us. If you are seeking spiritual fulfillment, there is a seat for you in our religious services; if you want to feel the sense of community, there is room for you at our programs; if you have a particular interest in the workings of the Congregations, there is a place for you in our committees.

Please join us whenever and as often as you can—together we can learn, grow, and serve all.

It is my personal wish on behalf of the Temple, its officers, board of directors, and staff, for a healthy and Happy New Year ahead.

L'Shana Tova and Shalom

Jeffrey Marlin, President

From Our Sisterhood Presidents...

Shalom!

Another remarkable and extraordinary year has gone by. Each of us has our own personal experiences and memories. And, together as a Sisterhood, these have brought wonderful shared moments. At services or programs, in meetings or the Judaica Shop, in the kitchen or a spiritual moment, we are connected as a congregational family.

Sisterhood is a vibrant part of the El Emeth family. As we reflect on 5784, we are proud of our accomplishments, especially the variety of programming. We are appreciative of each one of our members, be they leaders or participants. We are nothing without our members.

In the coming year, we will build on this momentum for inspiration, fun, and companionship.

We look forward to greeting you in person and wish you a happy, healthy, and sweet New Year.

Shana Tova Tikatevu,

Paula Ferguson and Debbi Grinstein
El Emeth Sisterhood Co-Presidents
