General description

Welcome to RGS Surrey Hills (formerly Box Hill School), a vibrant co-educational boarding and day school for students aged 11-18. Nestled in 26 acres of the picturesque Surrey countryside, our school is at the heart of Mickleham village, yet conveniently close to major road, rail, and air links, and just 40 minutes from central London.

At RGS Surrey Hills, we are committed to helping every student reach their full potential. We foster an environment where students are encouraged, nurtured, and challenged in all their endeavors. Our goal is to develop well-rounded, tolerant, and confident young individuals who achieve academic success. This is achieved through our dedication and passion for holistic development, guided by our Round Square IDEALS, which are integrated into daily classroom activities and our extensive range of extracurricular opportunities.

We believe that a strong academic foundation, paired with exceptional pastoral care, cultivates well-adjusted young people who are ready to embrace the world with energy and enthusiasm.

We look forward to welcoming you to RGS Surrey Hills soon.

What the school is known for

Round Square

RGS Surrey Hills is a proud founding member of Round Square, a global network of 100+ schools across the globe, committed to personal development, maturity, responsibility and academic excellence, based on the educational philosophies of Kurt Hahn and brought together by Jocelin Winthrop-Young (our Sixth Form building is named in his honour).

Round Square IDEALS

Kurt Hahn believed that schools should have a greater purpose beyond preparing their pupils for college and university. Round Square schools work to prepare their pupils for their life beyond education, providing them with experiences that demand courage, generosity, imagination, principle and resolution. This preparation through experience is based around the Round Square IDEALS.

Internationalism

Democracy

Environment

Adventure

Leadership

Service

Round Square Opportunities

Round Square offers our students exceptional opportunities to broaden their horizons through global and regional conferences, exchanges, and projects. These events, such as the recent conference in Colombia, along with workshops and collaborations with other schools, enable our students to engage with peers from diverse backgrounds, develop leadership skills, and gain unique perspectives. Additionally, our students participate in service projects, like those in South Africa with the Good Work Foundation, preparing them to thrive as well-rounded, confident, and globally-minded individuals.
