Daniel Sicolo

CREATIVE SPECIALIST

For the past 20 years, I have helped clients big and small craft creative communications. Throughout that time I focussed on a multi-disciplinary approach & set goals to learn as much about all aspects of my industry. I refer to myself as a creative storyteller. For one client, that story may be told through Motion Graphics, Animation, or Illustration. Other clients through Photo & Video. Maybe it's Branding & Web Design. Story is the thread that runs through all of my work.

I am a collaborative Designer and although I bring much experience to the table, I leave ego at the door. I believe that iron sharpens iron. This means that I will stand firm on creative principals but be open to listen & learn. Together we can create something new, fresh, & effective.
