VILLAGE MEETING
About the future of Uley Post Office

Is the Post Office Counter in Uley important to you?

Angela Haddrell is retiring from the role of Postmistress in 2027.

A meeting in the Village Hall will be held at 7pm on Wednesday 25th November.

If you care about the village shop, please come.

Uley Parish Council

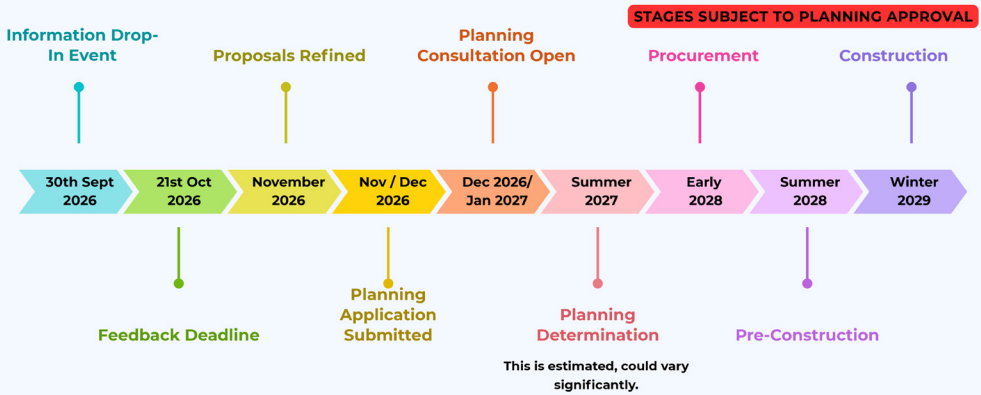

The Knoll and South Street
It was very good to see so many people at the Drop-in Event in the Village Hall, arranged by Stroud District Council, on 30th September. If you would like to read about the new proposal, please go to www.stroud.gov.uk/knoll. The deadline for comments was the 21st October. After this date you can write in to the Planning Department at Ebley Mill, Ebley Wharf, Stroud, GL5 4UB or email newhomes.regen@stroud.gov.uk or you could send a comment to the Parish Council via our website. Further details on the timeline below can also be found on the Council's website listed above.

Flooding, Drainage and Sewerage
One of the consultants, William James of Rodgers Leask Consulting Engineers in Bristol, told people that he was unaware of any existing flooding, drainage and sewerage problems. Somehow these much reported concerns have not reached him and he has asked people to please write to him at WilliamJames@rodgersleask.co.uk

New Clerk
We are delighted to say that Lauren Ettrick has been appointed our new clerk. We extend a very warm welcome to her. She can be contacted, as with previous clerks, on clerk@uleyparishcouncil.co.uk. We are very grateful to Emily Forgione, Clerk at Cainscross, and Colin Fairbrother, Clerk at Nympsfield, for all the help they have very kindly given us over the past few months.

Grit Bins
The old favourite at this time of year! Please would everyone bear in mind that the contents of the grit bins are for use on the highways and not for use on private property.

Where are we in the process and next steps

The Uley Lantern Festival 2026

Here are some last minute details, in case you've not already seen them.

When: Saturday October 31st - gathering from 5:45-6pm for a 6:15pm start
Where: starting at Green Close, the lantern procession will wind its way through the village to the Millennium Green, where all the evening events will take place

Road Closure - The road through the village will be closed from 5:45-6:45pm, apart from allowing emergency vehicles and pub customers through. If you can avoid parking along the top stretch of The Street it would allow the procession to pass more easily – it will be coned in parts.

Lantern workshops - These are great fun, and will be held in the preceding week - on Sat 24th in the Village Hall (10am-1pm and 1-4pm), and on Wed 28th, Thurs 29th and Fri 30th in Prema (10am-1pm and 1-4pm). There will be a charge of £7 per adult, and £3 per child. No advance booking. Payment taken on the door, cash or card. LED lights available at £4 each. We do not permit the use of candles. Children under 16 must be accompanied by an adult at all times.

Dress for the weather - There could be some rain, and there could be some mud on the Millennium Green, so wellingtons and waterproofs would be sensible. If the weather is awful we will continue as much as we are able, but post relevant advice on the Uley Friends group in Facebook, and in the shop window. So please keep a look out.

Dress spooky! Prizes for the best lanterns - Details will be put on Facebook and made available at the lantern-making workshops. The theme is "Spooky Folklore" as this year the Festival does fall on Halloween.....so feel free to dress up in spooky gear (and waterproofs and wellingtons!).

Bring cash! - We have card readers but a lot depends on the strength of the signal we get on the Millennium Green, and that can vary quite significantly. So to keep queues down, please please bring cash. We'll have a similar range of food and drink to previous Festivals that you can purchase, so no need to have eaten beforehand, and there'll be plenty to keep you going across the evening.

Finally, we're largely dependent on the goodwill of the village to support this wonderful event. We make no charge for any of the events on the night, so if you can donate we would be so grateful. There will be collection buckets going around on the night. You can also donate via our Crowdfunder https://www.crowdfunder.co.uk/p/uley-lantern-festival-2026, or via bank transfer (account details are on the flyers we have sent round, or speak to anyone on the Committee).

Hope to see you there!

The Uley Society is currently running a project to update Alan Bebbington's History of Uley.

We have many people in the village who have lived here in Uley, Owlpen, Shadwell and Elcombe the majority of their lives or certainly 30 or 40 years or more.

If you have any memories of pivotal events in the village or village life and characters in general (and any photographs) that you would like to share with this project, we would love to hear from you.

Listening in on Uley's bats

By Joseph B, aged 10
When I went on the batwalk with 18 villagers, we all met at the village playing field and Meg talked to us about the bat detectors and the sound the bats made.

At first we did not see many bats but then when we came into a field across a river we started to hear lots of flickering and fluttering on our bat detectors. Then they started really coming; they were fluttering around. Dodging through the bushes and amongst the willow trees. These were pipistrelle bats. Then we walked along a bat highway (a hedgerow along a field!). The bats were fluttering all around catching insects with their echolocation.

We walked along the bat highway to a farm. The farmer opened the door of a barn and we could hear lesser horseshoe bats inside. According to Meg, they are elusive and it was very special to hear them.

We are very proud that we have them in our Village. If we can put up bat boxes and other things which will encourage bats to come back into other places around the schools in our back gardens and in our fields it would really support the species.

Simple ways we can all help bats:
- Plant species-rich native hedgerows
- Grow a wider variety of pollinator plants to boost insect numbers
- Keep outdoor lighting to a minimum at night, angled downwards and fitted with a cap
- Protect known roosts and install bat boxes

Uley already enjoys fairly dark skies, and capping our street and flood lights could make the village even better for bats.

The Uley Community Stores AGM is to be held Saturday 28th November at 10:30am. Come and hear how our lovely Village shop is doing. Doors open from 10am for the 10:30 start. Tea, coffee and biscuits will be offered courtesy of the Uley Society.

This is not just for volunteers and shareholders but the village of Uley and all that use the village shop, but please note only shareholders may actually vote. If you'd like to become a shareholder ask at the shop, or join on the day. It only costs £10 per person, not per household.

Prior to the AGM, there's Angela Haddrell's meeting about the future of the Post Office within the shop. Wednesday November 25th at 7pm in the Village Hall.

Now is the time to check in the Post Office or on-line the deadlines for sending your Christmas cards, letters and parcels in the UK and abroad. Please bring your parcels ready for posting. I suggest you buy your wrapping paper or parcel boxes etc. from the shop, take it home then bring back your parcel ready to post with your return details on the back of the parcel. Christmas stamps are now available.

Shop Opening Hours
Monday to Friday: 8am – 5.30pm
Saturdays: 8am – 1 pm
Sundays: 9am – 12pm

Post Office Opening Hours
Monday to Friday: 9am – 5.30pm
(Closed for lunch 1pm – 2pm)
(Wednesdays closes 4.30pm)
Saturdays: 9am – 12.30pm
Sundays: Closed

The advice from the PO ladies is the latest time to bring your parcels for collection is 4.30pm Monday-Friday, 3.30pm Wednesday and Saturday 10.45am.

Remembrance Sunday will be on November 8th. Once again the Uley Berry ladies have been knitting lots of their wonderful poppies for sale in the shop. All donations from the sales will go to the British Legion.

The Christmas goodies will then be on the shelves, very exciting. Ho Ho Ho.

Garden Notes

Adapting our gardens for a changing and unpredictable climate

Reanalyse every inch of your garden - not the plants at this stage, but more looking in detail at the garden itself.

- Where does the sun fall
- Which part of the garden loses sun first in the afternoon
- Is the soil the same throughout the garden
- Which areas are first to show signs of stress

There may be areas that are slightly cooler where the sun is lost earlier in the day. These may be choice spots to move old favourites that are being fried in all day sun.

Slightly heretical but some RHS advice may now be lagging behind the sudden extremes of weather. Thus plants typically labelled for Full Sun might now be happier with a little shade in the morning and full sun in the afternoon. You may have identical plants growing in different spots around the garden - take a notebook and make some observations.

This may not be about replacing plants but observing microclimates small or large around the garden and moving plants around accordingly. Think about the plants this summer that really required work to keep them alive (I can think of a few here!) and move them to more benign spots before you think about ditching them.

A prime example in our garden in the tall border phlox. Normally happy in its full sun position, it has really suffered in the relentless heat and drought. So this autumn it will be moved to conditions more akin to its natural habitat in North America of moist light shade.

So having relocated some much loved favourites - what can go in their place?

Free draining soil and sun

- Phlomis
- Santolina
- Sidalacea 'My love' - a Piet Oudolf selection that flowers all summer
- Summer flowering alliums - completely indifferent to this years conditions
- Scabiosa columbaria var. ochroleuca - airy fillers that flower non stop

- Cephalaria dipsacoides - tall airy, late season
- Verbenas - try a new variety - V. bailyeana 'Purple Haze' crossed between V. Officinalis 'Bampton' and V hastata 'Rosea'. It's on my shopping list!

As you take stock of your planting, think about 3D layering, for instance herbaceous plants, shrubs, small trees, climbers. This tapestry creates a more robust and resilient ecosystem. Diversity and density of planting results in a miniature carbon sink with reduced flooding and drought. Leaving native grass to grow allows them to deepen their root system, sequester carbon and store water so keep up with No Mow May and long grass areas all year.

When to Plant - Autumn!!
Autumn planting usually out performs Spring planting (unless you're prepared to do a lot of watering!) Ideally before the end of October but so far this mild weather should allow this to continue into November as the soil remains warm and moist and the roots can get established over winter and then romp away in Spring.

Happy gardening

Church Letter

Remember, remember....

A few weeks ago I bid farewell to my dear dad, who had lived with Alzheimer's for very many years and who in recent years had no short-term memory worth talking about. While it made conversation tricky and somewhat circular at times, for someone who holds a lot of confidences, he made the perfect counsellor. Both my brother and I are priests, and for us he became the person we could talk with about the situations that bothered us– he still had capacity to ask good questions; he listened without judgement and viewed us with complete and consistent positive regard. What's more, he was quite content to go over the same material any number of times, as if for the first time. And he never remembered a thing!

I miss him.

I have found that when someone we love dies there is a finality that opens a door to forgotten memories: precious and painful moments, perhaps as small as a word, a gesture or a look. I have recently read The Things We Never Say by Elizabeth Strout - a beautiful and spacious book that invites the courage to be open to that which is closed, dismissed or forgotten and never spoken of.

So much of our lives are played out unconsciously, unaware, unresolved. We are often tempted to rush through our lives, barely living, to keep at bay the remembering that can be incredibly painful, avoiding the truthfulness that could bring tremendous freedom and immense joy.

During November there are a couple of opportunities to take the time to remember, and to do this in the presence of the God who remembers us.

On Sunday 1st November at 4pm in St Giles we will name before God and one another, those we love but see no longer. We will light candles, listen to ancient words of scripture, sing some hymns and drink some tea. I hope that, whether you're familiar with church or not, you will feel able to venture into St Giles Church and find some peace and comfort.

On Sunday 8th November at 10am in St Giles Church we will again drink tea, before remembering before God those who have given their lives for the freedoms that we enjoy.

By the time you read this, Uley will have enjoyed the light and laughter of the Lantern Festival. All those beautiful little lights shining in the darkness. Christians have faith that Jesus Christ is the light that shines in the darkness, the One who enlightens, the One in whom we are invited to live. Truly live as the children of God we are made to be, knowing that we are forgiven, and free to offer that forgiveness to others.

The prayer I offered this morning as part of a regular pattern of prayer, I offer to you:

Most high and holy God, enthroned in fire and light, burn away the dross of our lives and kindle in us the fire of your love, that our lives may reveal the light and life that we find in your Son, our Lord Jesus Christ.

If you'd like to make this prayer your own – simply say 'Amen'.

Come Holy Spirit, fill the hearts of your people, and kindle in us the fire of your love!

What a Wonderful First Year!

As we approach the final couple of months of Uley Berries' first year, we have plenty to celebrate. What began as an idea to bring local women together has blossomed into a thriving group. We are absolutely delighted with the support, enthusiasm and involvement of women from Uley and the surrounding villages.

Already it has 68 members — a fantastic achievement in our first year! The monthly gatherings have brought us friendship, laughter, interesting speakers and new experiences, helping us to build connections and strengthen our sense of community. It has been encouraging to see so many women embracing the spirit of Uley Berries and making it their own by getting together in smaller groups for outings, coffee mornings, afternoon teas, lunches, walks and pub nights.

November promises to be a wonderfully festive affair as we descend on Uley Village Hall to create a little mayhem while making our own Christmas wreaths and table decorations. We look forward to an evening of creativity and seasonal inspiration as we get into the Christmas spirit.

Then, in December, we'll come together for a very special occasion — our first Uley Berries Christmas party! It will be a lovely opportunity to celebrate our inaugural year, enjoy one another's company and reflect on everything we have achieved together.

Uley Berries was founded on the simple idea that friendship, community and shared experiences can make life richer and more enjoyable. As our first year draws to a close, we feel that we are well on our way to achieving just that.

A huge thank you to everyone who has joined us, supported us and helped make Uley Berries such a success. We look forward to welcoming even more local women in the year ahead.

Here's to friendship, fun and many more wonderful Berries moments to come!

For more information please email uleyberries@gmail.com and follow us on Facebook at Uley Berries

From the Churchwardens

There is much to celebrate this month in the life of the church and across our villages.

In late September we welcomed Bishop Rachel to St Giles for a Benefice Service where Tracy Mason-Fayle and Matt Arkle were baptised and confirmed and Mike Fraser, Kristy Fraser, Kate Vernon, Rob Marrow, Claire Wass and Martin Gregory were confirmed. It was a joyful service to celebrate across our church congregations.

We spread out the theme of harvest across several events, with our Harvest service at St Bartholemew's, a Harvest themed second Sunday at St Giles, and our inaugural 'Oktoberfest' on Friday 10th October.

The Oktoberfest, seemed to be a big hit with young and old. The Uley Brewery set up a bar in the back of the church, folks could sit outside in the early evening sunshine, children ran around the churchyard, dogs seemed content on leads. We enjoyed drinks, frankfurters with generously donated Hobbs House buns, black forest gateaux or apple strudel, a raffle and music from the Wotton Oompah band. Huge thanks to the Friends of St Giles and the Uley Brewery for pulling off a successful event. All proceeds will support the restoration of the Price tomb. The Price family being the original brewers in Uley. There are already many shouts for 'can we do that next year'. It was fabulous to be able to gather the village for a social to celebrate the time of year and the legacy of a local family.

In terms of caring for our little plots, following the careful mapping of all the gravestones in the upper churchyard. It has been mused that an 'adopt a plot' scheme of some sort would be of value. If you are in a home that you know a predecessor is buried in the graveyard and have an hour to spare periodically, you would be welcome to adopt a plot. Or it you have a name that is similar. We'll put together a list and circulate. Have a think if you'd like to contribute to keeping our patch tidy and free from weeds and clutter.

In November we look forward to reflective services of Remembrance and starting to prepare for Advent.

Uley Annual Show 2026

The 50th Anniversary of the Uley Annual Show organised under the umbrella of the Uley Society took place in the Village Hall on Saturday 12th September. There were a terrific 329 entries from 64 adult exhibitors and 20 children. Quite a few children entered the adult categories too.

The new Duff Hart-Davis trophy, beautifully crafted in wood by Matt Summers and awarded for creative writing was won by Becky Rymer.

In the afternoon many locals and visitors admired the fabulous displays whilst enjoying the wonderful afternoon tea, coffee and homemade cakes on offer. Mel's Valley Scoops Ice-creams were available outside, from her lovely white tricycle.

The Judges were very impressed by the standard and number of entries. There is an amazing amount of talent in the village.

Category winners were as follows:
Vegetables (Cup) ~ Andrew Tutton
Fruit (Patrick Cason Cup) ~ Bev Baker
Flowers (Cup) ~ Jenny Cox
Flower Arrangement (Cup) ~ Rachel Davidson
Preserves (Barbara Harris Cup) ~ Liz Williams
Cookery (Cup) ~ Lorna Tutton
Handicrafts (Cup) ~ Catherine Day
Creative Writing (Duff-Hart Davis Trophy) ~ Becky Rymer
Art (Cup) ~ Miriam Salmon
Photography (Rosemary Bowmer Cup) ~ Lucy Hawkins
The Catherine Freeth Trophy (for most entries) ~ Lucy Hawkins & Andrew Tutton
Children's Section (Ruth Cornish Cup) ~ Leo Irlam-Rose

All winners in the Children's section received a red Winners rosette and all children received a coloured pencil.

The Uley Society wishes to thank everybody involved for their invaluable contributions to the Show - the organising team, helpers, judges, raffle prize contributors, exhibitors and visitors.

We welcome any feedback, suggestions and new ideas.

See you next year, after a good rest
