~~Home school and private school students may become eligible and participate in high school extracurricular activities. Participation will be based on Utah Code 53G-6-703.~~

~~A private school student may only participate in activities not offered at the student's private school.~~

~~A private student or a home school student may only participate in activities:~~

- ~~1) — at the school within the attendance boundaries of the student's custodial parent or legal guardian; or~~

A private or home school students shall pay all fees associated with participation. Eligibility based on attendance does not apply to home school students.~~

~~Academic eligibility is established by a parent, teacher, or organization submitting an affidavit (signed, notarized statement) to the Principal indicating the student meets academic eligibility requirements. The eligibility affidavit is good for the activity season for which it was submitted.~~

~~If a home school student loses academic eligibility, the student remains ineligible until the person who submitted the original affidavit provides written notice to the school principal that the student has reestablished academic eligibility.~~

~~A person who has probable cause to believe a home school student does not meet academic eligibility may submit to the School Principal an affidavit asserting such and provide information as to why the home school student does not meet the academic eligibility. If the Principal determines that the statement constitutes probable cause to believe the student is not academically eligible, the Principal shall request a panel to verify the student's academic eligibility as outlined in Utah Code 53G-6-703.~~

~~A home school student who becomes academically ineligible shall remain ineligible until the student:~~

- ~~1) — Demonstrates eligibility by means of a portfolio of the student's work (cannot occur during the activity for which the student was declared ineligible).~~

~~3) Enrolls in a private school and reestablishes eligibility.~~

~~A public school student who has been declared behaviorally ineligible remains ineligible consistent with other public school students even if the student withdraws and enrolls in a private or home school.~~

~~When selection to participate is made on a competitive basis, eligible private and home school students are eligible to try out and participate on the same basis as public school students.~~

~~Academic eligibility for a student who leaves a public school mid semester, or during an activity season, shall be based on the student meeting public school academic eligibility standards at the time of exiting the public school.~~

2. of the District school where the student participates in an extracurricular activity; and

Specific Eligibility Requirements for Participation in Extracurricular Activities for Home School Students—

Eligibility requirements based on school attendance are not applicable to a home school student.

A home school student meets academic eligibility requirements to participate in an extracurricular activity if:

1. the student is mastering the material in each course or subject being taught; and
2. the student is maintaining satisfactory progress towards achievement or promotion.

To establish a home school student's academic eligibility, a parent, teacher, or organization providing instruction to the student shall submit an academic eligibility affidavit to the principal indicating the student meets academic eligibility requirements. Upon submission of this affidavit, a home school student shall:

1. be considered to meet academic eligibility requirements; and
2. retain academic eligibility for all extracurricular activities during the activity season for which the affidavit is submitted, until:
 - a. an academic eligibility panel determines the home school student does not meet academic eligibility requirements; or
 - b. the person who submitted the academic eligibility affidavit provides written notice to the school principal that the student no longer meets academic eligibility requirements.

A home school student who loses academic eligibility pursuant to Subsection (2)(b) above may not participate in an extracurricular activity until the person who submitted the affidavit under Subsection (2)(b) provides written notice to the school principal that the home school student has reestablished academic eligibility. If a home school student reestablishes academic eligibility as described above, the home school student may participate in extracurricular activities for the remainder of the activity season.

A person who has probable cause to believe a home school student does not meet academic eligibility requirements may submit an affidavit to the principal:

1. asserting the home student does not meet academic eligibility requirements; and
2. providing information indicating that the home school student does not meet the academic eligibility requirements.

A principal shall review the affidavit, and if the principal determines it contains information which constitutes probable cause to believe a home school student may not meet academic eligibility requirements, the principal shall request an academic eligibility panel to verify the student's compliance with academic eligibility requirements.

The District Superintendent shall appoint an academic eligibility panel to verify a home school student's compliance with academic eligibility requirements when requested by a principal. A panel shall:

1. review the affidavit and may confer with the person who submitted the affidavit;
2. request the home school student to submit test scores or a portfolio of work documenting the student's academic achievement to the panel;
3. review the test scores or portfolio of work; and
4. determine whether the home school student meets academic eligibility requirements.

If the panel determines that the home school student meets academic eligibility requirements, the student will retain academic eligibility for all extracurricular activities during the activity season for which an affidavit was submitted. A panel's determination that a home school student does not comply with academic eligibility requirements is effective for an activity season and all extracurricular activities that have academic eligibility requirements.

Utah Code § 53G-6-703\(4\) to \(14\)

Extracurricular Activities Fees—

Non-enrolled students who participate in an extracurricular activity at a District school shall pay the same fees as required of fully enrolled District school students to participate in an extracurricular activity.

If the District imposes a mandatory student activity fee for a student enrolled in a District school, the fee may be imposed on a non-enrolled student who participates in an extracurricular activity at a District school if the same benefits of paying the mandatory student activity fee that are available to a fully enrolled District school student are available to a non-enrolled student who participates in an extracurricular activity at the District school.

Utah Code § 53G-6-703\(3\)\(c\)

All fees, including school participation fees, student participation fees and activity fees shall be paid prior to student participation. School participation fees are paid by the charter school or online school to the District school for a student to be able to participate at the District school as provided by Utah State Board of Education rule. Student participation fees are the specific fees charged to all students who participate in the activity. School fees for non-enrolled students shall be waived by the District if required under Utah law and state board of education policy. However, the student's on-line or charter school shall be responsible for payment of the school participation fee for students qualifying for fee waivers and shall also pay the student participation fee to the District.
