Judge Massey made several appointments to some of the various boards that serve in Marion County. Benjamin Crombie and Stephanie Hutcheson were appointed to the Marion County Fair and Livestock Show Board. Crombie's term will end on December 31, 2022 and Hutcheson will expire on December 2021. John Yates was appointed to the Marion County Regional Airport Board, this term will end December 31, 2026. Eddie White was appointed to the Marion County Planning Board along with Tia Davies. Their terms will expire on December 31, 2024. Carl McBee, Jr. was appointed to the Marion County Library Board with the term expiring on December 31, 2025.

Bull Shoals Mayor, David Nixon had asked to be placed on the agenda to discuss the 9-11 dispatching.

Before he began, Judge Massey presented some history on what he had presented to the cities of Bull Shoals and Flippin. Judge stated that at this time the county dispatchers were doing all the clerical work for the cities (entering warrants, running plates ect.). He had gone to their Council meetings with a request that each city pay $21000.00 to help pay for two part time dispatchers. He stated that the county was $300000 short to provide proper services. He continue to state that cities with their own departments and police chiefs by law can help with 911. Massey continued by saying that if the cities and the county didn't come up with a compromise, services would end for the cities on February 1, 2021.

Mayor Nixon began by apologizing to the Court for having to present a paper of what the duties of the Quorum Court are. Nixon continued to state that the cities are already paying their share through taxation, dedicated telephone service levies and contributions to state and federal funding provided to Marion County. Nixon presented numbers showing that Bull Shoals is 12% of the population of Marion County. Flippin is 8% of the population. He felt that the money asked for should perhaps be funded by population. He contended that there was no statutory basis for this request.

At the end of Mayor Nixon's presentation, Judge Massey offered to hold a meeting to resolve this problem.

Another member of the audience asked to speak, but because he was not on the agenda, that request was denied.

The meeting was adjourned.
