

She Wears A Yellow Ribbon traditional

Tony did some very good guitar work on this old classic. You may see the title of She Wore a Yellow Ribbon, and there are many versus. I just picked these lyrics a few years ago to emphasize the importance of frontier military forts in my presentations.

Round her neck, she wears a yellow ribbon
She wears it in the winter and the merry month of May
If you ask her why the yellow ribbon
She'll say it's for her soldier who is far, far away

Far away, far away she wears it for her soldier who is far , far away

In her heart, she has a secret passion
She has it for her soldier who is not so far away
Could it be that I'm her secret soldier,
And she wears that yellow ribbon round her neck just for me

 Could it be, could it be, she wears that yellow ribbon round her neck just for me

Behind the door, her Daddy keeps a shotgun
He keeps it in the winter and the merry month of May
If you ask him why he keeps the shotgun
He keeps it for that soldier who is not so far away

 Fire away, fire away, he keeps it for the soldier who is not so far away

Far away, far away, she wears the yellow ribbon for her soldier far away
