THE SIXTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Be reconciled
WITH YOUR BROTHER

Dear Parishioners,

Jesus doesn't pull any punches in today's Gospel. To be his follower is going to take some effort!

We are reading from the Sermon on the Mount. In Matthew's Gospel, the Sermon on the Mount takes place early on and provides a backdrop to all the teaching and works of Jesus. The Sermon on the Mount happened in Galilee, overlooking the Sea of Galilee. It was there, in Galilee, in the land where Jesus was raised, that he revealed to us some of the most beautiful Christian realities.

His words today seem to be a challenge. They are weighty and definitive. In this moment, Jesus transforms the Law of Moses and brings it deeper. He does this by ensuring that the Jewish laws of old are not to be lived on the surface, but they have to transform the heart. Jesus will give us six themes where he will contrast the old law from Moses with the new law from himself. Jesus will touch upon themes of anger, of greed, and of lust. There is an important lesson Jesus is telling us.

What we do in the religious realm is meant to transform the heart and to be a reflection of our soul. We cannot become religious hypocrites. What we say we believe must be matched by a worthy way of life. All too often, we must admit, we behave no differently than the pagans of the world. The only difference is that we go to Church on most Sundays!

Ask yourself, is there something that distinguishes me from my non-religious neighbor?

We often find Christians who talk as the pagans do, shop as the pagans do, seek out entertainment the way pagans do, and treat their marriages and families no differently than what the pagans do. And this is sad!

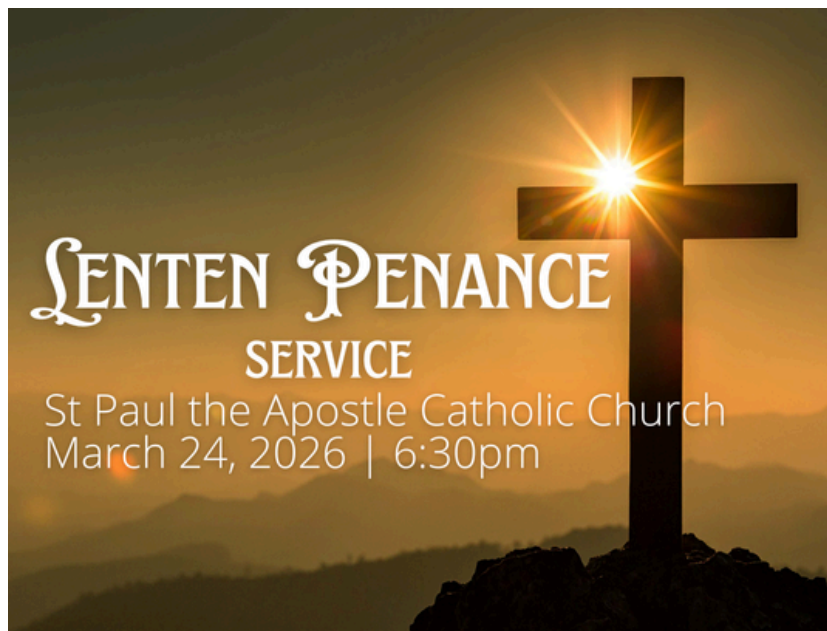

Jesus today tells us to go deep! A Christian is, by their baptism and by grace, a powerful force for good in the world. A Christian loves differently. A Christian lives differently. To be a Christian is no easy thing. Yes, Jesus calls us to the narrow path. It will involve cross and sacrificial love. But it leads to heaven. This is why the Church has paired the Gospel with Paul's letter to the Corinthians. Paul says that we need not worry. Every cross we carry here on earth will be worth it. Because heaven is for real: What eye has not seen, and ear has not heard, and what has not entered the human heart, what God has prepared for those who love him.

Sincerely,
Rev. TK

The Catholic Daughters would like to share a few joyful updates with our parish family. At our most recent meeting, we were blessed by a beautiful reflection by Deacon Frank and welcomed 2 new members into our court. We were also grateful to support parish faith formation by contributing to the OCIA Retreat and also to the upcoming Seder Meal.

We have several upcoming service projects and parish events planned in the coming weeks and are always happy to welcome new members. If you are interested in growing in faith, friendship, and service to our Church, we invite you to join us.

God is Calling You

St Paul offers many different opportunities for returning our gifts of time and talent to God. As stewards of God-given skills and abilities, volunteering in a ministry or organization provides a way to thank God, share our faith with others, and enhance our community.

Three important ones: Lectoring,
Minister of the Eucharist and Homebound Ministries are in need of assistance. If you feel you are being called to one or more of these very satisfying ministries, please contact

Deacon Gary Robinson at (361) 548-4152 or the office at (361) 937-3864 for more information.

THE SEVEN HOLY FOUNDERS OF THE ORDER OF THE SERVANTS OF MARY

February 17

Today's liturgical feast honors Alexius, Amadeo, Hugo, Benedict, Bartholomew, Gerardino and Juan. A group of merchants who renounced the business life, they left what was necessary for their families, then distributed the rest among the poor. They dedicated themselves entirely to the veneration of the Virgin Mary, going to live on an Italian mountain and later establishing a hermitage for prayer, extreme fasting, and penance. Some time later, at the request of the Supreme Pontiff's delegate, six of the seven were ordained as priests. Brother Alejo, discerning the priesthood as something very consequential for him, decided to remain as a brother. The Congregation was approved in 1304 and the liturgical feast is held on February 17, in remembrance of the last founder's death; Brother Alexius shared a testimony of holiness, both in his own life and in the lives of his fellow companions.

Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time License to Sin

In the James Bond movies, 007 has a license to kill. He can shoot all the bad guys he wants without worrying about being charged with murder. God, however, does not issue a license to sin. The first reading from Sirach reminds us that any time we choose between life and death, good and evil, it is our free choice and our responsibility. God may allow us to make bad choices, but God never commands anyone to sin.

Jesus goes even deeper than Sirach. The people of Sirach's time had followed the laws and commandments that governed external actions. But Jesus taught that thoughts and desires that lead to sin can also be freely chosen or rejected. In the Gospel he gives us some examples.

The first is about killing. Jesus says that anyone who gets angry enough to kill or who looks down on his neighbor as not deserving to live has committed murder in his heart. Because the Eucharist is our sacrament of unity, we should take care to be reconciled with others before coming to the altar.

The next warnings are about adultery and divorce, breaches that also begin with interior feelings. Jesus exaggerates when he tells us to cut off a hand or tear out an eye, because he knew how easily we rationalize our feelings and pretend they are harmless. Jesus takes marriage seriously and expects his disciples to do the same.

His final example concerns taking oaths. Jesus gets to the point and says that we wouldn't need oaths if we always told the truth and kept our promises. Our faith is based on the knowledge that God keeps promises. Shouldn't we do the same?
