May I love the Lord
more than the Treasures of this World

Dear Parishioners,

We've been listening over the last few weeks to some of Luke's parables. Today, we are presented with perhaps the most confusing parable of them all!

Two questions arise: Why is the steward who steals from his master apparently doing something good? What is the "dishonest wealth" that Jesus wants us to use? We will attempt to make sense of the parable, knowing that even today there are differing opinions as to what it means. The steward knows he's mismanaged his master's goods. Facing dismissal, he will shortly be out on the street, dishonored, and without a means to support himself. He decides to act quickly and decisively. For a short period of time, he has the authority to reduce the debts of others. He decides to attempt to gain the goodwill of the many debtors to his master by reducing their debts as quickly as possible. What is clear is that he is not personally generous. He cares not for others but rather only for himself. He is not merciful; rather, he is cunning. Because of his swiftness, cunning, and his decisiveness, Jesus points out that "the children of this world are more prudent... than are the children of light" (Luke 16:8). The steward is dishonest. He is literally stealing from his master, yet Jesus says, "The master commended the dishonest steward for his shrewdness" (Luke 16:8). How can this be good? Before we address this, we need to talk about the meaning of dishonest wealth.

The way to understand this phrase is to look at the translation. "Dishonest wealth" can also be translated as "unjust wealth". To merely be in possession of some type of wealth does not mean we legally have a right to it. A person could, for various reasons, such as finding a lost purse full of money, be in possession of something that they did not earn, did not purchase, or deserve. A person like this could be described as having "unjust wealth". It means having something that isn't yours. Here is the point: we are all in possession of "unjust wealth" because everything we have and are comes from God.

Our wealth isn't just money. It's a whole host of other, more important things, such as the gift of life itself, God's unconditional love, the air we breathe, the food we eat, the grace we have received, the forgiveness of our sins. All of these are different forms of "wealth", and we cannot lay claim to them by our own right. With this new understanding, we can now piece together the meaning of this parable. We didn't earn our life, our health, God's grace, forgiveness, or salvation. These are gifts, loaned by God. Likewise, all the material resources in the world are given by God for the good of all.

Therefore, we are all stewards of whatever material wealth we have. But, like the steward, we're tempted to squander them on ourselves—buying fleeting pleasures, chasing status, or hoarding for security. This brings us to a sobering truth: we often misuse God's gifts. We are tempted to withhold love from others, to hold grudges, to not forgive, to live selfishly, and to hurt others. Jesus urges us to use our gifts for eternal purposes. The lesson isn't to be dishonest but to be wise with what's entrusted to us.

We only have a short amount of time! Let's be stewards who hear, "Well done, good and faithful servant," as we enter God's eternal dwellings, our true home.

Sincerely,
 Rev. TK

God is Calling You

St Paul offers many different opportunities for returning our gifts of time and talent to God.
As stewards of God-given skills and abilities, volunteering in a ministry or organization provides a way to thank God, share our faith with others,
and enhance our community.

Three important ones: Lectoring,
Minister of the Eucharist and Homebound Ministries are in need of assistance. If you feel you are being called to one or more of these very satisfying ministries, please contact

Deacon Gary Robinson at (361) 548-4152 or

SAINT VINCENT DE PAUL (1581-1660) September 27

St. Vincent de Paul was born in the 16th century and lived on a small farm in Gascony, France. He worked herding his family's livestock as a child and entered seminary at age 15. He was ordained at age 19 but since he was too young to be a pastor, he continued his theological studies. Although he initially hoped priesthood would afford him a comfortable life, he had a change of heart while hearing the confession of a dying servant. From then on, he sought to fulfill the spiritual needs of the poor in France. He eventually became the leader of the Vincentian community, whose members devoted themselves to the service of the poor in small towns and villages. Throughout his life he established confraternities of charity, organized fundraisers for missionary projects, founded hospitals and seminaries, and ransomed slaves. He also had a particular passion for training priests by conducting retreats. Vincent started out as a hard and rough man but became tender and sensitive to others' needs. Let us be uplifted by the example of St. Vincent de Paul, who allowed himself to be transformed by Christ in both character and deeds. May we follow his example and seek to serve those in need in whatever capacity God may be calling us to.

Twenty-fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time The Clever Crook

The parable in today's Gospel has a crooked steward who is commended by his master for being prudent, or clever, trying to protect himself. Jesus wanted us to be just as clever in serving the Lord. Let's look at the first two readings and how they challenge us to do more.

The reading from Amos talks about those "who trample upon the needy and destroy the poor" (Amos 8:4). The challenge here is to ask yourself, "What do I do for the poor?" Most parishes have organizations to help the needy and are happy to get volunteers. Do you ever think of praying for the poor?

Speaking of prayer, our second reading also challenges us to do more. Paul recommends prayers for "kings and for all in authority" (1 Timothy 2:2). It's easy to pray for friends and family; how much time do we give to prayers for government leaders and executives? Paul reminds us that God wants everyone to be saved (1 Timothy 2:4), sinners as well as saints, terrorists and embezzlers, atheists and agnostics. I'll bet you don't spend much time praying for the "bad guys." Yet Jesus said, "Love your enemies. Pray for those who hurt you" (Matthew 5:44). I can't say I've ever heard anyone say that was their favorite Bible passage. But if Jesus expects more from those who love him, who are we to let him down?
