Dear Parishioners,

Today, we begin the season of Advent. The word "advent" means "arrival" or "coming." It is derived from the Latin translation of the Greek word parousia and is normally used in the New Testament in connection with Jesus' second coming at the end of time.

We read from the prophet Isaiah during the first weeks of the liturgy of Advent. The prophet Isaiah was active in Jerusalem from 740 B.C. until 701 B.C. He lived through difficult times of war and conflict, and when Jerusalem was continually threatened by the Assyrian Empire. Isaiah's basic message returns again and again to three ideas: First, he condemns the sinfulness of the people of God. Second, he calls the people to repentance as they will face God's judgment. Third, he promises hope because the Lord's mercy is never exhausted day for those who desire it.

The Book of Isaiah, often called the Fifth Gospel due to its many Christological prophecies, points to the coming of the Messiah in an age of fulfillment and restoration. However, when we read these prophecies during Advent, we can apply them to the second coming of the Lord and the attitude of watchfulness that marks our expectation of it. Thus, there are two Advents! The Fathers of the Church often linked the Lord's first coming in humility to Bethlehem with his second coming in glory at the end of time. This is why the readings for Advent begin with the second Advent of Christ.

At the first advent (Christmas): The world did not notice the birth of Jesus in Bethlehem. The Lord was born in humility and weakness. At the second advent (Parousia): The world will notice. The Lord will come in glory and power. Today's Gospel complements the reading from Isaiah and deals with the end of time. In fact, the passage taken from the Gospel of Matthew is taken from Jesus' fifth major discourse, which is called the eschatological or end times discourse. Images of three events are interwoven in this discourse, and each event calls for vigilance. Jesus' apostles are called to vigilance in the Garden of Gethsemane before Jesus' death and resurrection, and this event inaugurates the final age of the world.

The early Church is called to vigilance before the destruction of Jerusalem in A.D. 70 by the Romans. All Christians are called to be ready for their encounter with the Lord at their death and at the end of time. Jesus admonishes his disciples and us to "stay awake" and "be prepared" for the coming of the Son of Man. On the one hand, he tells them and us to be prepared like Noah, who followed the Lord's command and built the ark that saved himself and his family from the flood. On the other hand, Jesus tells them and us to be like the master of the house who is always prepared for a thief to break into his house. Being ready, then, means guarding our hearts from evil and heeding God's saving Word.

Sincerely,
Rev.TK

SAINT ANDREW, APOSTLE (c. 5-65) November 30

As one of the disciples blessed to be called an Apostle, according to the Gospel of John, St. Andrew was the first of the Twelve to be led to Christ. One day, John the Baptist was with two of his disciples "and as he watched Jesus walk by, he said, 'Behold, the Lamb of God.' The two disciples heard what he said and followed Jesus... Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, was one of the two who heard John and followed Jesus. (John 1:36-37, 40). Andrew began following Jesus after a simple indication from John the Baptist, without ever hearing a word come out of Jesus' mouth. What incredible faith! In the same light, we could also consider him the very first evangelist, since after meeting Jesus and finding out where he was staying, he immediately went to find his brother Peter and bring him to the Lord as well. All he had to say was, "We have found the Messiah" (John 1:41). And that is how his mission began, following the Messiah and learning all he could from Him so as to continue leading others to Him. After Christ's death and resurrection, Tradition holds that Andrew preached in modern day Greece and Turkey. He was crucified at Patras on an X-shaped cross because he did not feel worthy to die in the same manner as Our Lord. St. Andrew, intercede for us, that we too may become disciples and evangelists for Christ.

First Sunday of Advent Do What You Can

The reading from the prophet Isaiah this Sunday contains a remarkable prediction—the end of war between nations (Isaiah 2:4). So why hasn't it been fulfilled? We can look to the second reading and the Gospel for some hints.

Both readings talk about being awake and ready for our salvation (Romans 13:12) or the coming of the Son of Man (Matthew 24:39). Being awake doesn't mean consuming lots of coffee or turning the music volume all the way up. Paul calls it "putting on the Lord Jesus Christ" as a soldier would put on armor before a battle. He even mentions rivalry and jealousy as attitudes to avoid. What if we not only avoided them, but also taught our children to avoid them? What if everyone eventually learned not to be jealous and hateful?

We are a long way from ending all wars. There are still people who teach hate to the poor instead of helping to feed them. There are still people who get rich selling the weapons of war. This brings us back to the first reading, in which Isaiah speaks of beating swords into plowshares. Instead of trying to stop all wars, could we at least show forgiveness to someone who has hurt us? Maybe we need to be ready to share our faith. Maybe we have to be awake to any opportunity to show God's love to those around us. If we can just be patient with other people's faults and weaknesses, we may not stop all wars, but we will be prepared for the coming of the Prince of Peace.
