JUSTICE SHALL FLOURISH IN HIS TIME,

V. Behold

R. Be it done unto me according to Thy word.

Hail Mary, full of grace.
The Lord is with thee.

Dear Parishioners,

In today's reading, John the Baptist takes on the Pharisees. This is because of a spiritual problem called "detached worship". This is a problem that Pope Leo himself recently highlighted in his Sunday Angelus message this past August. The Holy Father was speaking on the Gospel passage where Jesus talks about the Narrow Door. While many Christians would like to think that everyone "just goes to heaven", Jesus' words suggest otherwise: "Strive to enter through the narrow gate, for many, I tell you, will try to enter and will not be able" (Luke 13:24). Pope Leo said, Our Lord's words are meant "primarily to challenge the presumption of those people who think they are already saved, who perform religious acts and feel that is all that is needed. They have not realized that it is not enough to perform religious acts unless they change hearts. The Lord does not want worship detached from life. He is not pleased with sacrifices and prayers, unless they lead to greater love for others and justice for our brothers and sisters."

The Holy Father's reflection on "worship detached from life" is extremely helpful for our Advent reflection today. Here's why. Becoming a very religious person does not make one more like an angel. Rather, it makes one a better human being. The goal of Christianity is not to strip ourselves of our humanity, as if the body were a prison for the soul. Rather, it is to perfect our human nature and fashion us anew into the image of the Son. On Christmas morning, we will come to the manger in Bethlehem to worship the Christ Child, the God-man, the Second Person of the Holy Trinity. He took on our human flesh. Because of Jesus, we now have an incarnational religion.

What is divine has become human, and because of this, what is human can become divine!

Thus, faith in Christ, adherence to the Gospel message, and a life of grace through the sacraments can and should effect a powerful transformation in one's life. For example, years of grace and divine indwelling accomplish the effects that are noticeable in so many saints and holy souls: an increase in faith, hope, and love (theological virtues) and the presence of the gifts of the Holy Spirit (Wisdom, Understanding, Counsel, Fortitude, Knowledge, Piety, and Fear of the Lord). On top of these virtues and gifts, a host of other virtues flow from this transformation: we become perfected as human beings; we become more compassionate toward our fellow man; we embrace the Beatitudes, becoming meek and humble of heart; we stop judging others; we stop having an "us against them" mindset toward the world; we start wanting what God wants. True religion, as the Holy Father says, will always lead to a "greater love for others".

The harsh reality is that in many parishes and communities of faith, one can sadly find those who "worship detached from life". They may spend hours in prayer in the Church, but little time caring for and loving their families, friends, and neighbors. They may boast to themselves about being a great Catholic, but they are not good human beings. Because of their detached worship, all their religious practice has only made them more judgmental, more critical, more cynical, and more self-righteous.

The Holy Father concluded his message with this: For this reason, when such people come before the Lord boasting that they ate and drank with him and heard him teaching in their streets, they will hear him reply: "I do not know where you come from; go away from me, all you evildoers!" Let us try, this Advent, to make sure our worship springs from our heart and our very life.

Sincerely,

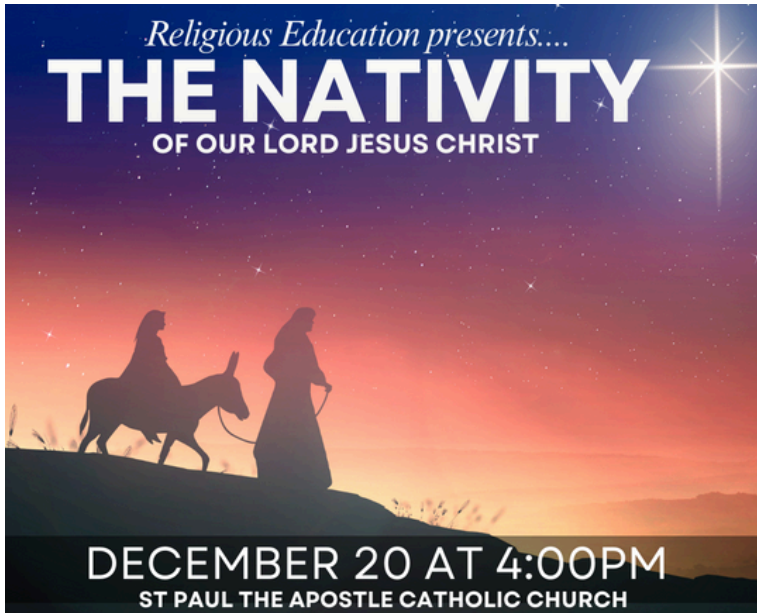

Rev. TK

OUR LADY OF GUADALUPE December 12

Our Lady of Guadalupe, the Patroness of the Americas, appeared to native American Juan Diego in 1531, requesting that a church be built on the spot. When the bishop asked for a sign confirming the authenticity of the apparition, she responded by producing roses in December for Juan Diego to gather, and left an image of herself imprinted on Juan Diego's tilma or mantle.

Second Sunday of Advent Gifts of the Spirit

Part of Isaiah's hopeful description of the Messiah contains the traditional seven Gifts of the Holy Spirit. As we prepare to celebrate the birth of the Messiah, and looking forward to His coming in glory, let's take a look at those gifts and see how we can use them.

Wisdom is the gift of seeing God in his creation. It means that we value the things of this world only as they help us to know and love God more. The second gift, Understanding, follows from Wisdom: we understand what God expects of us in dealing with creation and other people. This gift helps us to know how to act in a world that seems to ignore God.

Counsel follows from Understanding as the gift of making correct judgments on how to act; for example, Understanding can lead us to love others. Counsel guides us to love them in appropriate ways.

Strength or fortitude, is the gift that enables us to do those things inspired by understanding and counsel, even if they are difficult. John the Baptist shows that gift in the gospel. It gave him the courage to die for his faith.

Knowledge is similar to counsel in that we begin to see what God wants for us in this world. Knowledge leads us to deeper revelations of the truths of our faith. This can lead to the sixth gift (seventh in Isaiah's text: "delight in the Lord") of Piety, a willingness to worship and love God, a desire to be close to Him in prayer.

The final gift, Fear of the Lord, is the awe and wonder of recognizing how great God is, how much he loves us, and so how much we want to stay close to Him. The desire to be close to God leads back to Wisdom, where we see God in his creation.
