Dear Parishioners,

Jesus had a specific mission to accomplish during his earthly lifetime. He was to fulfill the Old Testament prophecies and lay the foundation for the universal sacrament of salvation, the Catholic Church. And he stayed focused on that mission.

Jesus never traveled to exotic locations like Rome and Spain, never visited the intellectual powerhouses of Athens and Alexandria. Those countries and the rest of the world outside Palestine would receive God's truth and grace not from him directly, but later, through his body, the Church. And yet, when the Canaanite woman approaches him and, by her faith, humility, and persistence, moves his heart, he changes his plans.

In so doing, he gives us a brilliant glimpse into the reason behind everything he does: the salvation of souls. Jesus came "to undo the work of the devil"; (1 John 3:8), which had brought the human family into its sinful, fallen state. As St Paul put it in his First Letter to Timothy, God wants "everyone to be saved and reach the full knowledge of the truth". And as he puts it in today's Second Reading: "For God delivered all to disobedience" [in other words, he permitted sin and evil to spread throughout the entire human family] that he might have mercy upon all.]

This was one of the most revolutionary aspects of the Gospel. In Old Testament times, salvation from sin, both original and personal, had been reserved only to the Jews, only to the one Chosen People. But with the coming of Jesus, all peoples, all the Gentile nations are now invited to hope for eternal life in the household of God, the "house of prayer for all peoples"; as Isaiah had prophesied in the First Reading.

In a sense, we could say that God has a one-track mind: whatever he asks of us and whatever he permits to happen in our lives, it all has one and the same purpose: to lead us to Christian wisdom and maturity. When he teaches us that the meaning of life is not to be found in pleasure, possessions, or popularity, and that each one of us has the responsibility to invest our time, treasure, and talents in the good not just of ourselves but of our neighbors; When he teaches us all these things, he is not just trying to complicate our lives. No! Our Lord wills the salvation of all people. His heart yearns for us to experience life as he meant it to be lived. That's why he points out the dead-end roads of comfort and self-indulgence that contemporary culture decorates, praises, and makes look so inviting. Jesus is reminding us today, by this miraculous cure of the demon-possessed girl, that his heart beats for us. His is history's most selfless heart. He demands great things of us because he loves us so greatly.

As we continue this holy Mass, let's renew our faith in his love. And when we receive him in Holy Communion, let's renew our commitment to be faithful to the commandments, so that we never find ourselves stuck at a spiritual dead-end.

Sincerely,
Rev. TK

God is Calling You

St Paul offers many different opportunities for returning our gifts of time and talent to God. As stewards of God-given skills and abilities, volunteering in a ministry or organization provides a way to thank God, share our faith with others and enhance our community. Three important ones: Lectoring, Minister of the Eucharist and Homebound Ministries are in need of assistance.

If you feel you are being called to one or more of these very satisfying ministries, please contact Deacon Gary Robinson at (361) 548-4152 or the office at (361) 937-3864 for more information.

SAINT PIUS X (1835-1914)

August 21

Presidential vetoes we understand. But imagine vetoing a papal election! Yet in the conclave of 1903, the Archbishop of Cracow (ironically, a predecessor in that office of Karol Wojtyla, the future John Paul II) vetoed the leading candidate on the order of the Austro-Hungarian emperor. Instead, the cardinals elected Giuseppe Sarto of Venice as Pius X, the first pope, after a succession of nobles and diplomats, to hail from humble origins. Nor did the papacy alter his endearing simplicity. Tailors eventually made his cassock cuffs detachable because he absentmindedly wiped his fountain pen on them, forgetting that his old black cassock had been replaced by papal white! Taking as his motto "To restore all things in Christ" (Ephesians 1:10), Pius condemned the theological innovations called "modernism," yet dramatically altered the then-common practice whereby people rarely received Communion for fear of unworthiness, mandating early First Communion and urging everyone to frequent reception. Refusing to bless troops assembled in Saint Peter's Square—"I bless peace, not war!"—he died brokenhearted as World War I engulfed "Christian" Europe despite his peacemaking efforts.

Twentieth Sunday in Ordinary Time

A Clever Woman of Faith

Why is Jesus being so difficult with the Canaanite woman? At first he seems to be putting her off. He does this not to discourage her, but to draw a response of faith. He wants to see how persistent she is in her request. We can tell ourselves that we are people of faith, but how easily are we discouraged? Do we think God has forgotten us when we experience trouble? The woman's clever reply to Jesus reminds us that she trusted in Jesus' power and willingness to help. She refused to give up and stop asking.

Jesus was also teaching his disciples that faith is more important than nationality. Long after Jesus' resurrection, the church struggled with the question of non-Jewish believers. Today, we may be doing the same thing in reverse. Some people think that only Catholics can be saved and that there is no hope for Protestants, much less for Jews. But though some rejected Jesus, God never rejected the Jews. Finally, Jesus responded to her persistence. He shows us that we can keep praying till we get an answer to our prayer. The more time we spend in prayer, the more likely we are to listen to God's answer. Prayer can help us come to the peaceful acceptance that God only does what is best for us.
