A message from Father Tomasz

Dear Parishioners,

It is frustrating sometimes not to know very much about what our life with God in the future is going to be like. All we have are hints and images, and we get some of the most powerful ones in the gospel reading this weekend.

First, we hear again the only image that Jesus uses more than once to describe eternal life, we're told it's a banquet, a wedding feast even, one where God is virtually at the table with us, a celebration of our presence together that doesn't end. It's the world reunited and transformed. I think that's something that is appealing to all of us, and it's amazing to think that God wants it, too.

But today we find out something else about that banquet, which is that it's not like any regular human banquet. This is a banquet with no barriers, guests coming from not only across history but across every barrier and border that humans erect to keep people apart. There's no barrier of social class or ethnicity in this banquet, no barrier between rich and poor, somehow, it's one family reunited. God will make it work.

Let's think for a moment about this banquet and what we're told about it. People are going to come from the four corners of the earth for this feast with God, Jesus says, all types of people, and that's the way God wants it. God is not thinking small numbers. The way God also wants it is that the system by which people are invited to this banquet is completely up to God. And God's system is about really knowing Jesus. It is not about admiring Jesus or knowing things about him or even loving the idea of him. It is about really knowing him, and that means living the way he did, embracing everyone. That's the narrow gate he says we should aim for, it's narrow because we have to throw a lot of things aside in order to get through it. What we throw aside are the fences we build around ourselves, because really knowing Jesus means that you also know there's no limit to who God cares about in this world or the next one. So the door to that banquet might be a narrow one, but it's wide open for people who have figured out that eating with others the way Jesus did is the path to everything.

Sincerely,
Rev. TK

God is Calling You

St Paul offers many different opportunities for returning our gifts of time and talent to God. As stewards of God-given skills and abilities, volunteering in a ministry or organization provides a way to thank God, share our faith with others, and enhance our community.

Three important ones: Lectoring, Minister of the Eucharist and Homebound Ministries are in need of assistance. If you feel you are being called to one or more of these very satisfying ministries, please contact

Deacon Gary Robinson at (361) 548-4152 or the office at (361) 937-3864 for more information.

SAINT MONICA (332-387)

August 27

She had smiles for the neighbors, though her husband found her religion and the charity it inspired annoying. She made tearful prayers in private for a son, outwardly self-assured but, as his mother knew, inwardly restless, and whose girlfriend of a dozen years had borne his child out of wedlock. Though not the first or last such mother and son, Monica and Augustine are the Church's most famous, so we keep their feast days back to back, with Monica's, fittingly, first. To Rome she followed Augustine, then to Milan, where years of prayer—and nagging—finally bore fruit in his conversion by Saint Ambrose. For six months, mother and son enjoyed the blessing of rediscovering each other. Just in time! On the way home to North Africa, Monica took sick and died near Rome. No child who has mourned a parent can read, unmoved, Augustine's tender account, in his Confessions, of Monica's last days. At this time of the year, when parents watch apprehensively as children leave for school, may Monica's perseverance and Augustine's long-prayed-for conversion ease anxiety and kindle hope.

Twenty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time Looking Good

Don't you love it when the underdog wins? When the Cardinals beat the Yankees for the championship or the Blues beat the Redwings, or the Rams beat anyone? Even when I watch a game with no St. Louis teams playing, I still like to root for the underdog. That is what I like about today's Gospel: the last will be first and the first will be last.

Some say that Jesus was talking about the leaders of the Jews, the scribes and Pharisees. These refused to follow Jesus, while ordinary Jews who did not feel threatened by Jesus' teaching became disciples.

In a way, you can understand why the leaders rejected Jesus. They made a nice living out of the offerings made by ordinary Jews. And who could argue with them? They worked for God. How dare Jesus say that they would be cast out, while people from the rest of the world would enter the Kingdom of God!

And how about us? Remember that the Gospel was not written for non-believers. Are we threatened by Jesus' message? Just as the scribes and Pharisees considered themselves important in God's eyes because of their office, do we consider ourselves "saved" because we call ourselves Christians? Are we generous to the poor, or just to our friends? Do we follow our consciences or do we follow the crowd?

Entry into the Kingdom of God is not a fashion statement. We don't get there by looking good. We are invited by Jesus to be last on earth so we can be first in the Kingdom.

"For behold, some are last who will be first, and some are first who will be last." ~ Luke 13:30

Legion of Mary
