ONLINE GIVING

Thank you for your support!

ARE YOU REGISTERED?

By using your weekly envelopes or giving online it will show you are a registered active member of ICC. If there is no giving history for 6 months you will be marked "inactive".

If you do not currently receive envelopes
please call the parish office to register or re-register.

Please be sure to take a few minutes to register. This can be done online at www.iccauburn.com, pick up a registration form in the gather space or stop by the parish office.

It is very important for all Catholics to be registered. This is especially important when you request letters of testimony to become a sponsor for baptism or confirmation or wishing to be married. Young adults over 18 years of age who are living at home and in the working world should be registered on their own. College students or those who are mentally or physically challenged are the exception.

REGISTER AND BE A PART OF OUR PARISH FAMILY!

PLEASE KNOW THAT FATHER JAKE AND STAFF WILL NEVER ASK FOR FINANCIAL HELP, GIFT CARDS, ETC.
ALWAYS CHECK WITH THE PARISH OFFICE BEFORE YOU RESPOND TO ANY TEXTS, PHONE CALLS OR EMAILS.

SPECIAL COLLECTION NEXT WEEKEND WORLD MISSION SUNDAY NO RELIGIOUS EDUCATION OCTOBER 18

One in Christ, United in Mission

Next weekend, our parish will celebrate the 100th anniversary of World Mission Sunday. This annual second collection supports more than 1,100 local mission dioceses in Asia, Africa, the Pacific Islands, and parts of Latin America and Europe. Instituted in 1926 by Pope Pius XI, this unique global effort helps sustain the basic infrastructure of the Church where the faithful are poor, young, or marginalized. Your prayers and financial gifts assist in building churches, training future priests and religious sisters, operating schools, and providing vital health and pastoral care to communities in need.

We wish to express our sincere sympathy and condolences to the families and friends of

RICHARD SCHIFFLI
Husband of Judy Schiffl

May perpetual light shine upon him and may all the souls of the faithful departed,
through the mercy of God, rest in peace.
Amen.

Marriage as Foundation of the Household

Principle #5:

Ground the Household in the permanent commitment, love, and friendship of the spouses.

(Inspired by The Intentional Household: Living as if People Matter by Dr. John Cuddeback)

One threat to a household is two spouses becoming parallel lines intersecting at moments of the day. Marriage demands a greater generosity to achieve the fruits and promises it was established for.

Two people can share a house, a schedule, responsibilities, and even children, while gradually living increasingly separate lives. Their lives physically overlap, but their inner lives no longer do. Each has his or her own interests, friendships, activities, plans, and pursuits, with only occasional moments when those separate paths intersect.

Marriage, however, demands something more intimate than this. The intimacy of marriage is exclusive. There are many good friendships in our lives, but no other friendship asks us to give ourselves in quite the same way. A husband and wife are called to share not merely a home, but their lives. This requires the generosity to allow another person into our thoughts, desires, interests, decisions, joys, struggles, and hopes.

That kind of generosity does not happen automatically. It requires learning how to give ourselves in ways that our spouse can actually receive. It means paying attention to what draws our spouse into shared life and cultivating the desire to continue sharing that life together. Sometimes generosity means entering into something that interests the other person simply because it matters to them. Sometimes it means setting aside our own plans so that I have the energy and time to receive my spouse. And sometimes it means making the effort to discover what we can do together that becomes uniquely "ours."

This generosity also bears fruit beyond the marriage itself. The gift of the spouses to one another becomes a generosity of generative life. Children call husband and wife to give themselves outwardly. They demand time, sacrifice, attention, patience, and countless shared decisions. In this way, children do not merely add another responsibility to the household; they call the spouses to a higher standard of giving themselves together.

The goal is to become generous in sharing a life with one another and protect that exclusive love—a life that both husband and wife desire to receive and desire to continue cultivating. When spouses give themselves to one another in this way, the household becomes more like the communion of love found only in the Trinity.
