ST. THERESA BENEDICTA OF THE CROSS (EDITH STEIN), CARMELITE, VIRGIN AND MARTYR, PATRON OF EUROPE

This brilliant German-Jewish philosopher became a Carmelite nun who embraced the “knowledge of the Cross.” A co-patron of Europe whose feast is celebrated on August 9, she offered her life and her martyrdom at Auschwitz for the sake of the suffering Jewish people and for the peace of the world.

Thank you to all the amazing volunteers who keep St. Paul's running. Each week, several volunteers use their personal time to distribute food, count the collection, landscape, deliver communion to the sick, and help in the mass. You are valued and we thank you!

VATICAN
NEWS

Today, Christ repeats to each of us, “Take heart, it is I; have no fear!” Take heart because I am here, because you are no longer alone on the turbulent waters of life. And so, what should we do when we find ourselves on the open sea at the mercy of headwinds? What should we do when we face the fear of the open sea, when we see only darkness and we feel we are going under? We need to do two things that the disciples do in the Gospel. What do the disciples do? They call on and welcome Jesus. At the worst moments, in the darkest of storms, call on Jesus and welcome Jesus. The disciples call on Jesus: Peter walks a little on the waters towards Jesus, but then gets frightened. He sinks and then cries out: “Lord, save me!” (v. 30). Invoke Jesus, call on Jesus. This prayer is beautiful. It expresses the certainty that the Lord can save us, that he conquers our evil and our fears. (...) And then the disciples welcome. First they call on, then they welcome Jesus into the boat. The text says that as soon as he got into the boat, “the wind ceased” (v. 32). The Lord knows that the boat of our life, as well as the boat of the Church, is threatened by headwinds, and that the sea on which we sail is often turbulent. He does not spare us the hard work of sailing; rather — the Gospel emphasizes — he pushes his disciples to depart. He invites us to face difficulties so they too might become salvific places, so Jesus can conquer them, so they become opportunities to meet him. In fact, in our moments of darkness, he comes to meet us, asking to be welcomed like that night on the lake. (Pope Francis, Angelus, 13 August 2023)
