About Social Still, Micro Distillery and Kitchen:

Handcrafted History

Welcome to Social Still!

Social Still was born in the ruins of the former Bethlehem Steel empire. Our city was once the greatest producer of steel in the world. We built bridges, buildings, fought wars, and created a proud history of the industrial revolution. The great people of our city were proud to create the infrastructure of America.

We decided to honor the past, while creating a vibrant new future. Not to just abandon what was here, but to embrace the beauty.

One step into this prohibition-era bank and you enter a place where production and hospitality collide. Bottle shop, cocktail bar, full-service restaurant, and that is just the first step. From mash-in to distillation, you are immersed in the process of craft spirits all while enjoying the best food and drink you have ever imagined. This is the tasting room of your dreams.

You're Invited To Get Social!

Dinner and Networking Event
