From the Pastor's Desk

Today we celebrate the Feast of the Epiphany, which remembers the visit of the Magi—the three Wise Men—to the baby Jesus. These men traveled from very far away, following a bright star in the sky because they knew something wonderful had happened. When they found Jesus, they knelt and gave him gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh. This story shows us that Jesus did not come just for one group of people, but as a Savior for the whole world. No matter who we are or where we come from, God's love is meant for us.

The star that guided the Wise Men is a symbol of how God leads us today. Just as the Magi looked up and followed the light through the darkness, we are called to look for God's guidance in our own lives. Sometimes life can feel confusing or dark, but the message of Epiphany is that God's light is always shining, inviting us to come closer to Him. By praying and listening to His Word, we can find the right path and discover the peace that only Christ can bring to our hearts.

As we begin this New Year, let us try to be like the Magi by seeking Jesus in everything we do. We can also be like the star for other people. When we are kind, patient, and helpful, we reflect the light of Jesus to our neighbors, friends, and family. Let us ask the Lord to help us share His love with everyone we meet, so that the joy of Christmas continues to shine in our parish and our community all year long.

The Jubilee Year of Hope officially ends on January 6th when Pope Leo XIV closes the Holy Door at St. Peter's Basilica in Rome.

Knowledge of Truth: Faith and reason guide us

Truth is not something we invent. It is something we receive from God, discover through reason, and share with others.

Truth corresponds to reality as it truly is, and its ultimate source is God, who is Truth itself (John 14:6). When people claim that everyone can have their own truth, there is no longer a shared foundation for right and wrong.

Stewardship:

This summer, the Leadership Roundtable surveyed more than 3,000 Catholics to assess the Church's progress in restoring trust and building a culture of transparency, co-responsibility, and accountability. The goal was to assess whether we are making progress on our mission and to understand what matters to Catholics today as we shape the work we'll provide to the Church in the years ahead.

The survey results highlight a moment of great hope. Catholics today are engaged and demonstrate strong, deep trust, particularly in their local parishes and leaders. But their trust and engagement are tenuous, and they hope to see continued progress in building transparency and accountability within their Church.

- 77% of Catholics—across ALL ages and ideologies—say building transparent and accountable leadership is a top priority for the Church's future.
- 61% of regularly giving parishioners would give MORE to their parish if the Church demonstrated greater financial transparency.
- Young adults are engaging with the Church at unprecedented levels—but their support is fragile, and many are considering leaving.
